IT MAY PROVE A CASE OF MURDER.

Newton Hutchinson, of This City, Assaulted John Young, of St. Clair Township, With a Piece of Fence Rail.

YOUNG'S SKULL WAS FRACTURED

He Is Lying In a Very Dangerous Condition at His Home In the Country and May Die.

NO ARRESTS HAVE YET BEEN MADE

A fight occurred in St. Clair township last Friday afternoon that may result in the death of John Young, a farmer residing about six miles northwest of this city, near the Pennsylvania state line.

Young had been in town during the day and drove home late in the afternoon. He had reached the home of John Farmer, who lives on the old John Thompson farm, three miles north of this city, and had stopped to talk to Farmer, who is a relative. Farmer was hauling hay and had a load standing near the gate at which Young had stopped. Young remarked that Farmer had some of his folks over at his place, meaning his daughter, Miss Mollie Young, who had been stopping at Farmer's for several weeks. The story as to what followed is best told in Mr. Farmer's own words. He was seen this morning by a News Review man at his home and said:

"Young didn't seem to be under the influence of liquor at the time, although he had some with him and offered me a drink, which I accepted more to accommodate him than anything else, as he insisted. He asked me if that man Hutchinson had been fooling around the girl, and I was waiting for an answer said if Hutchinson ever crossed his path he would kill the ———"

"Newton Hutchinson sat on the top of hay, with a broad rimmed straw hat pulled down over his eyes. It was for this reason probably that he was not recognized by Young, who knew him well. At the last moment of Young Newt crawled down on the opposite side of the load from where he stood, and when he appeared he held in his hand a portion of a fence rail about 20 inches in length and as thick as a man's arm. Without a word he assaulted Young, hitting him several blows across the top of the head with the club, and then the two rolled, rolling over and over until they reached a ditch and I lost sight of them for a time. I don't know what I could have been thinking of to permit the thing to go so far, but as soon as I could I gathered them from the ditch and conducted him to his buggy, which stood just outside the road. Hutchinson, in the meantime, had gone to the house. Young was in a terrible plight, having several bad wounds on the head and his face was beaten to a pulp and covered with blood. I was so excited I scarcely knew what I was doing, and leading him to the buggy he managed as best he could and drove off. Hutchinson has been stopping at my house for some time, and works, but I never hired him and don't know why he stays unless it be on account of the girl. Am very sorry the thing happened and realize I should have prevented it at the beginning."

Soon after leaving Farmer's place Young lost consciousness and it was in this condition that he was found by William Grim on the road near Farmer's bridge. He was taken to his home a short distance away. Medical aid was summoned and the man was made as comfortable as possible. He was pronounced in a very bad way, and in a dangerous condition ever since and may die from the effects of the injuries to his skull, which is fractured.

Hutchinson is still at the Farmer's home and is apparently unconcerned about the outcome of the case, and when seen today said he had not assaulted the man without provocation, as Young had called him all the vile names he could think of. Hutchinson claims to have used nothing but his fists in the assault, and that Young had struck the first blow, so it was really a matter of self defense.

It seems that the whole trouble arose over the daughter, Miss Mollie Young, who had worked in this city as a domestic for about 10 months, having come here last fall and worked in various places, the last one being at Hutchinson's in East End, where she was at the time they closed out their saloon business and left the city. The girl then went home and Newt Hutchinson came there to see her. Being forbidden by the father to continue his visits Hutchinson persuaded the girl to go to Farmer's place, where she now is.

He missed his footing and fell under the car.

He was picked up and taken in the patrol to the office of Dr. Hobbs and Dr. James Taylor. His foot was very badly mashed and his leg was broken above the knee and it may have to be amputated. After he had been cared for he was taken to the home of Mrs. Coulson, Franklin street.

Last night Sarah Green, a 6-year-old child, was sent by her mother to the home of her aunt, who resides in Accommodation alley. The child had completed her errand and was returning home when two boys caught her at the ice plant and shoved her into a pile of red hot cinders. Her feet were very badly burned and Dr. W. R. That Is Unparalleled In Its Vivid Delineation of Misery and Death.

AND NOW DO YOUR PART

Famine in India! How I dread to write about it! What pen can adequately portray the scenes which my eyes have witnessed? Scenes of desolation, of pain, of suffering, of hopeless despair, of heart anguish, of death! Linger, agonizing, torturous, terrible! An indescribable death, coming on gradually; slowly, but surely tightening its grip, until its victim, consciously helpless, the eyes abnormally distended and unnaturally lustrous, sinks down overcome with dread apprehension. Then a feeble but fruitless effort to rise again, a protracted, spasmodic gurgle, an occasional revivification; a final prolongation, appealing, anxious, despairing look, the death rattle, and all is over. Then the funeral! If the undertaker be a jackal or a vulture, it may possibly be imagined, but it should never be described. Otherwise, the body is burned, and its ashes fertilize the sun-baked, kiln-dried, sterile ground.

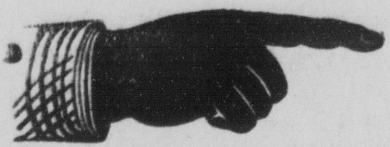

I had fully expected to witness great distress, intense suffering, yes, even death. I realized my own feebleness in the face of so great a calamity. I had nerved myself for the mission in hand; yet, I was in nowise prepared for the dreadful, shocking state of affairs I was called upon to encounter. On the Red sea and the Indian ocean, while sweltering in a range of temperature and a degree of humidity to which I was wholly unaccustomed, fellow passengers had endeavored to convey to my mind some idea of the sad, heart-rending scenes one is apt to meet with in the famine territory; but had I the power to intensify a thousand times all I heard, when face to face with the dreaded reality, I should have felt even then that "the half had never been told."

One-half of India today is a great charnel-house in which countless thousands have already perished of cholera, plague, dysentery and starvation, and as many more are doomed to a like fate. How to describe it, so as bring it within the grasp of the human mind, I know not. Twenty thousand cases of cholera weekly, with a 75 per cent mortality, representing 15,000 deaths every seven days; plague on every hand; dysentery mowing down its victims right and left, and starvation staring millions boldly and defiantly in the face, reaping a harvest unprecedented—this tells the horrible story about as accurately as a brief prose summary of Milton's Paradise Lost would convey a sense of its poetic sublimity. The skeleton may be there, but the soul is wanting.

As Mr. Willets, my traveling companion in India, has undertaken to supply a general narrative of the trip, I will confine myself to a recital of some of the most striking incidents, without regard to chronological order.

But before I begin permit me to express my heartfelt gratitude to my Heavenly Father for having brought me safely through dangers by land and sea, as well as by infection and contagion, and to thank the many readers of the Christian Herald for their earnest prayers in my behalf. My

Bombay's Army of Beggars.

On the day of our arrival the streets of Bombay were literally alive with walking skeletons. Every step of the way we were beset and besieged by men, women and children in the last stages of destitution, piteously begging for a mite that they might eat and live. They prostrated themselves before us, calling upon us as the "Protectors of the poor, our Father and Mother, our king and our God," to save them from starvation.

They lifted up their hands in earnest supplication, and uttered their petitions while vigorously slapping their naked, hollow stomachs to indicate that for a long time they had had nothing

Streets Littered With Destitute Sleepers.

All along the drive of over two miles between our hotel and the Marathi mission, doorways, stoops and curbstones were occupied by these helpless unfortunates, many of them more than three-fourths naked and all of them miserably clad. The most persistent in their entreaties were the nursing mothers, and nearly every other woman belonged to that class, and the saddest sight of all were the poor child mothers, themselves in need of maternal attention, hugging their emaciated, hollow-templed and sunken-eyed babies with an intensity of affection that almost broke our hearts to witness—particularly in view of our own utter helplessness to relieve their distress.

As in the city, so along the country roads of the famine district, there are constant streams of grim, gaunt, hungry, despairing people, bound from the villages for the relief stations; for the famine code requires the starving to break up their homes and travel from 15 to 20 miles, yes, some times over 30 miles, in order to obtain relief. Hence, no wonder that along the sun-baked, kiln-dried roads of famine-stricken India, dead bodies have strewn the way and sickened the hearts of our missionaries, and that when certain death stares these wanderers in the face they, as a last resort, offer their children for sale at a few annas each, in the hope that such a course will ensure the lives of the little ones and enable their parents to journey further on, with a prospect of getting to where relief awaits them!

REV. S. W. M'CLURE WAS SUSPENDED

The Case of a Toronto Pastor Was Investigated by a Committee of Ministers

WHO SUSTAINED THE CHARGES

Against Him of Imprudent and Unministerial Conduct and Prevarication.

CASE GOES TO CONFERENCE

Rev. S. W. McClure, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Toronto, yesterday was suspended for imprudent and unministerial conduct and for prevarication.

The committee which investigated his case consisted of the following ministers:

Dr. Holmes, presiding elder, and Dr. J. S. Reager, of Steubenville; Rev. L. H. Stewart, Cleveland; Rev. J. S. Hollingshead, New Athens; Dr. Clark Crawford, of this city; Rev. J. T. Morton, Martin's Ferry; Rev. James Walls, Salineville, and Rev. Earl D. Holtz, Wellsville; S. P. Lloyd, East Springfield, and Dr. H. S. Jackson, Warren.

The charges against Rev. McClure were sustained by the committee and his suspension will last until the coming session of the East Ohio conference, which meets in Youngstown in September, when the case will be taken up and officially investigated.

Rev. McClure has been pastor of the Toronto church for two years, going there from Salineville.

TO THE POOR.

Yes, to the Poor Sufferers of India He Sends His Check.

The News Review was the recipient this morning of a snug little check, with instructions to send the same to the India famine sufferers and not to make the name of the contributor known. Ah, well, the Master has placed the name on His book of records. "Whoso giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." "Even as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my little ones, ye did it unto me." "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

We have good reasons for believing that the present contributor is a cheerful giver. God grant that many may pattern after him, and that right speedily, as the horrors of India at the present time are simply indescribable.

A Man Made Himself Obnoxious in New Brighton and Was Chased By the People.

New Brighton News.

A man who came here from Sebring, O., Saturday, and who claimed he had business with a man who was at a Smith's family house in the north end, was chased out of that end of town by a crowd of angry people. At first he made himself obnoxious in certain ways and then began that question, "Have you seen Smith?" The north enders are a little slow, but they wouldn't stand that, and a gang got together and ran the fellow out. The police were called, but all was quiet.

DENOUNCED THE MURDER.

Powers Declared He Said Gobel Killing Outrage and Injured Republican Cause.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Aug. 1.—Caleb Powers, on trial for complicity in the murder of Gobel, continued his description of his actions on the day of the tragedy. Powers denied that when in company with Walter Day, John L. Powers and Wharton Golder, leaving Frankfort that morning there was anything said about suspicion. He said: "While we were on our way to Louisville we heard that Gobel had been shot from the second or third story of the executive building, and when I heard it I said it was a shame and outrage. It has just ruined our chances in the contest. We might as well go home. We reached Louisville and went to the Winfield hotel, where a conference was held. The object of our visit to Louisville had been frustrated by the shooting, and of course we abandoned bringing a second crowd to Frankfort, as we had intended."

The witness then detailed his return from Louisville, saying he felt that in the official position which he held he should be back in Frankfort, although he would have liked to remain in Louisville. Powers continued: "At our first meeting in Frankfort, of which Colton was chairman, when we discussed bringing witnesses, Sheriff Burton, of Breckenridge county, made a very violent speech, and I tried to stop him, and at the close of his talk he pulled a cartridge from his pocket and said that one of those exploded in the proper way would settle the contest. After he had made his speech I addressed the meeting and told them that although I had more at stake than any of them I would resign my office if anything of that kind was attempted."

"I held a conference after the tragedy with my assistant, J. B. Matthews, and George Hemphill, and told them that I wanted a complete investigation, and that I did not want to go through life with any suspicion attached to me. Then I went to Governor Bradley and Judge Yost and laid what information I had before them. I consulted them as to whether I should go to Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin with the information, and they advised against it."

In regard to a conversation which Golden claimed he had with Powers on this subject Powers said: "Never a word of it was spoken and I can explain how Golden got onto the fact that I had a conference with Yost and Bradley," but this was promptly overruled by the court. The witness then told of his daily doings up to the night of March 9, when he heard of Colton's arrest and a warrant being out for him.

REV. S. W. M'CLURE WAS SUSPENDED

Against Him of Imprudent and Unministerial Conduct and Prevarication.

CASE GOES TO CONFERENCE

Rev. S. W. McClure, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Toronto, yesterday was suspended for imprudent and unministerial conduct and for prevarication.

The committee which investigated his case consisted of the following ministers:

Dr. Holmes, presiding elder, and Dr. J. S. Reager, of Steubenville; Rev. L. H. Stewart, Cleveland; Rev. J. S. Hollingshead, New Athens; Dr. Clark Crawford, of this city; Rev. J. T. Morton, Martin's Ferry; Rev. James Walls, Salineville, and Rev. Earl D. Holtz, Wellsville; S. P. Lloyd, East Springfield, and Dr. H. S. Jackson, Warren.

The charges against Rev. McClure were sustained by the committee and his suspension will last until the coming session of the East Ohio conference, which meets in Youngstown in September, when the case will be taken up and officially investigated.

Rev. McClure has been pastor of the Toronto church for two years, going there from Salineville.

TO THE POOR.

Yes, to the Poor Sufferers of India He Sends His Check.

The News Review was the recipient this morning of a snug little check, with instructions to send the same to the India famine sufferers and not to make the name of the contributor known. Ah, well, the Master has placed the name on His book of records. "Whoso giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." "Even as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my little ones, ye did it unto me." "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

We have good reasons for believing that the present contributor is a cheerful giver. God grant that many may pattern after him, and that right speedily, as the horrors of India at the present time are simply indescribable.

HE CAME FROM SEBRING.

New Brighton News.

A man who came here from Sebring, O., Saturday, and who claimed he had business with a man who was at a Smith's family house in the north end, was chased out of that end of town by a crowd of angry people. At first he made himself obnoxious in certain ways and then began that question, "Have you seen Smith?" The north enders are a little slow, but they wouldn't stand that, and a gang got together and ran the fellow out. The police were called, but all was quiet.

DENOUNCED THE MURDER.

Powers Declared He Said Gobel Killing Outrage and Injured Republican Cause.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Aug. 1.—Caleb Powers, on trial for complicity in the murder of Goebel, continued his description of his actions on the day of the tragedy. Powers denied that when in company with Walter Day, John L. Powers and Wharton Golder, leaving Frankfort that morning there was anything said about suspicion. He said: "While we were on our way to Louisville we heard that Goebel had been shot from the second or third story of the executive building, and when I heard it I said it was a shame and outrage. It has just ruined our chances in the contest. We might as well go home. We reached Louisville and went to the Winfield hotel, where a conference was held. The object of our visit to Louisville had been frustrated by the shooting, and of course we abandoned bringing a second crowd to Frankfort, as we had intended."

The witness then detailed his return from Louisville, saying he felt that in the official position which he held he should be back in Frankfort, although he would have liked to remain in Louisville. Powers continued: "At our first meeting in Frankfort, of which Colton was chairman, when we discussed bringing witnesses, Sheriff Burton, of Breckenridge county, made a very violent speech, and I tried to stop him, and at the close of his talk he pulled a cartridge from his pocket and said that one of those exploded in the proper way would settle the contest. After he had made his speech I addressed the meeting and told them that although I had more at stake than any of them I would resign my office if anything of that kind was attempted."

"I held a conference after the tragedy with my assistant, J. B. Matthews, and George Hemphill, and told them that I wanted a complete investigation, and that I did not want to go through life with any suspicion attached to me. Then I went to Governor Bradley and Judge Yost and laid what information I had before them. I consulted them as to whether I should go to Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin with the information, and they advised against it."

In regard to a conversation which Golden claimed he had with Powers on this subject Powers said: "Never a word of it was spoken and I can explain how Golden got onto the fact that I had a conference with Yost and Bradley," but this was promptly overruled by the court. The witness then told of his daily doings up to the night of March 9, when he heard of Cotton's arrest and a warrant being out for him.

THE BOYCOTTER.

He is a close relation of the anarchist and the assassin. As a rule, the boycotter is a coward and a poltroon. Respectfully referred to any one whom the shoe fits, and especially to the creatures who have lately been threatening to boycott business and professional men in East Liverpool.

CITY POLICE.

The idea of the average citizen is that the policeman is a guardian of the peace, a welcome sight on a dark night, amid danger and dread, to the law abiding and law observing citizen, and a dread to the law breaker, thug, gambler, thief and illegal liquor seller. When he fails to fill this bill he fails to be a peace guardian and an efficient officer, and he should make room for a better man.

ON TO PEKING.

The allied armies are concentrating for an advance on Peking. The United States, in common with the other great powers, seems to have awakened to the fact that the Chinese leaders and diplomats have been trifling in order to gain time. It now looks as if earnest work is intended. The eyes of the whole civilized world are fastened upon Peking, and the fate of the legations at that point is indeed a hard one. God grant them safe deliverance.

CIGARETTES.

And now the leading railroads of the country have commenced to bar the deadly, dangerous cigarette. The companies will permit their employes to smoke either cigars or pipes, but draw the line on the baneful, brain and body destroying cigarette. Pity that the government will not forbid the manufacture or sale. Cigarette fiends will soon find that employers of workmen all over the land have no use for their services. Whisky and beer guzzlers will soon share the same fate. Speed the day.

POLITICAL.

Take your choice of this situation: McKinley and prosperity. Sound currency and solid credit throughout the civilized world. Workshops hustling and workmen happy. A continuation of the present unparalleled good times. Bryan and disaster. Business unsettled. An unsound and unsafe currency. Credit impaired or destroyed throughout the civilized world. Workshops idle and workmen miserable. An era of distrust, business depression and poverty.

Workingmen, take your choice.

ANARCHY.

The anarchist and the assassin, in common with all backers, aiders and abettors of the miserable cowards, should be banished from the United States, now and forever; and there should be some law to punish men and women who dare to jubilate and celebrate, in this land of freedom, the assassination or murder of any one, high or low, rich or poor. Such measures are hateful to our people, born and bred in this country, and our laws should banish from our shores all creatures like unto those jubilators at Paterson, N. J., and force them to return to the lands which they have cursed in former days. We have no use for such scum.

READ IT.

Don't dare to miss it. Turn to the article headed "Horrors of the India Famine," appearing on our first page of today's issue, and read the personal experience of Louis Klopsch while in India. The story is one which will surely appeal to the heart and pocket book of every man and woman who loves God and humanity. In the name of that charity which "covers a multitude of sins," we appeal to our readers, residents of this prosperous city of East Liverpool, to add their mite to the fund which is being raised to aid this starving, suffering, dying people. God will surely reward you if you aid your brothers and sisters in this awful time of need. Money will be forwarded to New York as soon as received at this office, and will at once be forwarded from that point to India by telegraph, giving almost instantaneous relief and possibly saving many human lives. Act at once.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The News Review is published in the interest of the people of this city, and the people have a right to be heard through its columns. The purpose is to champion all good and true business measures that will be conducive of the greatest good to the greatest mass, and to condemn every measure which will retard our prosperity and progress. All trickery and chicanery against the people and the taxpayers will be fully and fearlessly exposed when backed by full and explicit proof. There are some very ugly rumors afloat at present respecting persons who are said to be guilty of malfeasance in office, and this paper has been urged to go after the offenders; but the proof furnished the manager has not been sufficient to warrant him in so doing. Watch for developments. No individual or body of individuals have the right to use an office, the gift of the people, for their own personal aggrandizement at the expense of the people. Skulduggery and trickery may win for a time; but these foul practices are sure to be exposed, and the exposure always hits very hard, and when least expected.

BENDHEIM'S.

night was a disgrace to the city of East Liverpool and her citizens, and it is a shame that Marshal Thompson and his roundsmen did not put a stop to it and land the principals and every one connected therewith in the city lockup. These men were known to the officers, and it was also known that they were about to engage in a prize fight. We have it from reliable authority that the boat was moored to one of the piers of the bridge and that the spectators could step from the Ohio shore upon a coal boat or barge and from there to the boat upon which the brutal fight was being waged. Further, we have it from a trustworthy source that the language made use of was simply horrible in its profanity and vulgarity, and could be plainly heard from Second street. Thugs and plug uglies have evidently been led to believe that, in consequence of the disgrace put upon our city on Saturday, July 21, they can do as they please in this neighborhood. Fellow citizens, it rests with you to declare that such foul and disgraceful work shall not control, and you have the right to demand that our city marshal shall enforce the law. If he cannot control and conquer the element which ruled on Monday night, let him so declare, and conservative and law abiding citizens will invoke the aid of the state officials.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Tien Tsin dispatch says according to Peking advices the American marines there on the night of July 3, made a sortie, under Captain Myers, and hit the Chinese hard. Myers was slightly wounded in the engagement.

It was inferred from the dispatch that the American legation was still standing.

THE BOYCOTTER.

He is a close relation of the anarchist and the assassin. As a rule, the boycotter is a coward and a poltroon. Respectfully referred to any one whom the shoe fits, and especially to the creatures who have lately been threatening to boycott business and professional men in East Liverpool.

CITY POLICE.

The idea of the average citizen is that the policeman is a guardian of the peace, a welcome sight on a dark night, amid danger and dread, to the law abiding and law observing citizen, and a dread to the law breaker, thug, gambler, thief and illegal liquor seller. When he fails to fill this bill he fails to be a peace guardian and an efficient officer, and he should make room for a better man.

ON TO PEKING.

The allied armies are concentrating for an advance on Peking. The United States, in common with the other great powers, seems to have awakened to the fact that the Chinese leaders and diplomats have been trifling in order to gain time. It now looks as if earnest work is intended. The eyes of the whole civilized world are fastened upon Peking, and the fate of the legations at that point is indeed a hard one. God grant them safe deliverance.

CIGARETTES.

And now the leading railroads of the country have commenced to bar the deadly, dangerous cigarette. The companies will permit their employees to smoke either cigars or pipes, but draw the line on the baneful, brain and body destroying cigarette. Pity that the government will not forbid the manufacture or sale. Cigarette fiends will soon find that employers of workmen all over the land have no use for their services. Whisky and beer guzzlers will soon share the same fate. Speed the day.

POLITICAL.

Take your choice of this situation: McKinley and prosperity. Sound currency and solid credit throughout the civilized world. Workshops hustling and workmen happy. A continuation of the present unparalleled good times. Bryan and disaster. Business unsettled. An unsound and unsafe currency. Credit impaired or destroyed throughout the civilized world. Workshops idle and workmen miserable. An era of distrust, business depression and poverty.

Workingmen, take your choice.

ANARCHY.

The anarchist and the assassin, in common with all backers, aiders and abettors of the miserable cowards, should be banished from the United States, now and forever; and there should be some law to punish men and women who dare to jubilate and celebrate, in this land of freedom, the assassination or murder of any one, high or low, rich or poor. Such measures are hateful to our people, born and bred in this country, and our laws should banish from our shores all creatures like unto those jubilators

at Paterson, N. J., and force them to return to the lands which they have cursed in former days. We have no use for such scum.

READ IT.

Don't dare to miss it. Turn to the article headed "Horrors of the India Famine," appearing on our first page of today's issue, and read the personal experience of Louis Klopsch while in India. The story is one which will surely appeal to the heart and pocket book of every man and woman who loves God and humanity. In the name of that charity which "covers a multitude of sins," we appeal to our readers, residents of this prosperous city of East Liverpool, to add their mite to the fund which is being raised to aid this starving, suffering, dying people. God will surely reward you if you aid your brothers and sisters in this awful time of need. Money will be forwarded to New York as soon as received at this office, and will at once be forwarded from that point to India by telegraph, giving almost instantaneous relief and possibly saving many human lives. Act at once.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The News Review is published in the interest of the people of this city, and the people have a right to be heard through its columns. The purpose is to champion all good and true business measures that will be conducive of the greatest good to the greatest mass, and to condemn every measure which will retard our prosperity and progress. All trickery and chicanery against the people and the taxpayers will be fully and fearlessly exposed when backed by full and explicit proof. There are some very ugly rumors afloat at present respecting persons who are said to be guilty of malfeasance in office, and this paper has been urged to go after the offenders; but the proof furnished the manager has not been sufficient to warrant him in so doing. Watch for developments. No individual or body of individuals have the right to use an office, the gift of the people, for their own personal aggrandizement at the expense of the people. Skulduggery and trickery may win for a time; but these foul practices are sure to be exposed, and the exposure always hits very hard, and when least expected.

DOUGLASS CASE WAS DISMISSED

He Didn't Succeed In Proving
That His Wife Assaulted
Him.

NONE OF THE WITNESSES

Saw the Defendant Strike Her Husband or Knock a Cigar
From His Mouth.

THE WIFE TOLD HER STORY

The assault and battery case of Samuel Douglass against his wife, Marietta Douglass, was tried in the court of Justice McCarron yesterday afternoon, and a decision was rendered at 4:45.

The parties to the suit have conducted a restaurant on lower Broadway for some time and have become celebrated in the past for the frequency and publicity of their domestic troubles.

Douglass had retained J. E. McDonald to look after his end of the case, while Mrs. Douglass, not being aware of the attorneys' vacation and supposing she could have a man on the spot at a moment's notice, had neglected that part of the matter until she arrived at the office of the justice. The result was that considerable delay was occasioned, but E. W. Hill was finally prevailed upon to accept her case, and the witnesses all being present the suit was proceeded with.

Mr. Douglass was sworn and testified in his own behalf. Witness said he lived on Broadway; been a resident of East Liverpool for about 10 years, and had lived in various places in town; now resided in property of Freddy Wilson, which was rented by him, he paying the rent and assuming all responsibility. Attorney Hill objected to these questions on the ground that they had nothing to do with the case of assault and battery which they were here to try. Plaintiff was instructed to confine himself more closely to the case, and proceeded by stating that upon the 24th day of July, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, his wife did strike him in the eye. Being asked to tell the story just as it occurred, he said he was sitting in front of their place of business when A. C. Rowe came along and wanted some tobies. Douglass entered the store and proceeded to wait upon the customer, when his wife came from somewhere in the rear of the store and told Mr. Rowe to give her the money, as she was responsible for the bills and would have them to pay. She did not get it, however, as the purchase had already been paid for and he had the money in his pocket. In the meantime Douglass had taken a cigar from the box and proceeded to light it, whereupon his wife had remonstrated, accusing him of smoking up all the profits. She became very angry and hit him a "clout in the eye," which also knocked the cigar from his mouth. He never said a word, but went outside, remarking that she was a pretty good hitter. Witness said the whole affair was caused by some woman who wanted to board with the family, to which he objected. He attempted to throw the woman's outfit into the street, but his step-daughter sat on the trunk and laughed at him. His mother-in-law had told him his wife and her daughter would throw him out, and now he believed it. In fact his wife had on more than one occasion threatened to throw him out. He testified that within the last two weeks he had contributed $21 to the support of the family and thought he was surely entitled to some privileges.

On cross-examination Douglass said he had been working that day, but had probably one drink before returning home; he was not so drunk as to be quarrelsome. He told Mr. Hill his wife "hailed off and gave him a clout in the eye." Witness said his wife went back into the house after this, and he, thinking she was after the poker, went outside.

Attorney McDonald took the witness again and in answer to a question he stated that the blow was a vicious one; he did not remember whether his wife had said any cuss words—she swore so much he would not like to say whether she swore on that occasion or not.

Mr. Rowe was then sworn. He said he was foreman at Thompson's pottery; was acquainted with the parties, and was there at the time the altercation took place. He remembered of buying the tobies and that Douglass had put the money into his pocket. Mrs. Douglass told him to pay her after this and he said he would. She had said she did not propose to pay the bills and let Douglass take the money for booze. He did not see Mrs. Douglass strike her husband and didn't see him strike at her. She didn't seem to be in a bad humor. He had been asked to patronize the store by Sam and he did it because it was handy. He didn't hear Mrs. Douglass say "get out, you dog." At this point Attorney McDonald attempted to show that Rowe was an unwilling witness and didn't believe he was telling all he knew. Witness said he objected to telling the same story over again, but was ordered by the court to repeat it as many times as the attorneys might wish. He had bought tobies there three or four times a day, but never bought any "booze." Hill objected to the question and stated it had no bearing on the case whatever, as murder could be committed in the kitchen of the same house and not have anything to do with the assault and battery case now being tried. Witness had eaten two meals in the place, one on Sunday two weeks ago and one last Sunday, on both of which occasions he had some beer, but not at the table; he had drunk it with Sam outside.

The court asked witness if, at the time the cigars were bought, he had seen the cigar knocked from plaintiff's mouth. He said he did not, but Douglass had come out of the store and said he "believed she hit him."

Mrs. Douglass and Marian Martin were sworn for the defense and Mr. Martin was put on the stand. He said he had been boarding at the house for two weeks, during the absence of his family; was in front of the store at the time the trouble occurred. In answer to questions by Mr. Hill witness said he was on the side of the door opposite the cigar case and about 12 feet from it, and could readily hear anything that was said inside. Some delay was here caused by the attorneys as to the nature of the testimony being given by Mr. Martin. When he again resumed he stated he had heard Mrs. Douglass say, "Don't you dare hit me." He did not hear any scuffle or other indication of trouble inside. To the court the witness said he had not seen a blow struck, nor a cigar knocked from anyone's mouth.

On cross-examination by McDonald witness said a blow might have been struck, but he didn't hear it.

Mrs. Douglass was then examined. She was working in the rear of the house; heard the door open and shut and when she came out she saw Sam waiting on the customer. She told Rowe to pay her hereafter. Sam said for her to go about her business and not bother him. She said she wouldn't do it, and told him he was drunk, and she didn't propose to have him around.

In beginning the cross-examination of the witness Attorney McDonald used the word "seance" in connection with the trouble leading up to the alleged assault, to which Hill objected, fearing his client would not understand, urging the attorney for the plaintiff to use better English. The tilt would probably have gone on for hours had not the court been of the opinion that much valuable time was being wasted and so expressed himself, at which the trial was proceeded with.

Mrs. Douglass told McDonald on cross-examination that she had told the men not to pay Sam any money; had accused him of smoking up all the profits, but she didn't "swipe" at the cigar or "clout" him in the eye; she was very angry, however, and was mad enough to hit him had he attempted to strike her first. Being asked the question witness stated Sam was her husband, but she was ashamed to own him as such. Asked what he ought to think of her, she said he should be proud to have such a wife.

The attorneys spent a short time in arguments and the justice was of the opinion that there had been no assault and dismissed the case.

Although the case was a trivial one and should never have found its way into court, it will be remembered by at least one of the participants, as it was E. W. Hill's maiden effort, and the fact that he won his case will make it especially important to him.

THE WIFE TOLD HER STORY

The assault and battery case of Samuel Douglass against his wife, Marietta Douglass, was tried in the court of Justice McCarron yesterday afternoon, and a decision was rendered at 4:45.

The parties to the suit have conducted a restaurant on lower Broadway for some time and have become celebrated in the past for the frequency and publicity of their domestic troubles.

Douglass had retained J. E. McDonald to look after his end of the case, while Mrs. Douglass, not being aware of the attorneys' vacation and supposing she could have a man on the spot at a moment's notice, had neglected that part of the matter until she arrived at the office of the justice. The result was that considerable delay was occasioned, but E. W. Hill was finally prevailed upon to accept her case, and the witnesses all being present the suit was proceeded with.

Mr. Douglass was sworn and testified in his own behalf. Witness said he lived on Broadway; been a resident of East Liverpool for about 10 years, and had lived in various places in town; now resided in property of Freddy Wilson, which was rented by him, he paying the rent and assuming all responsibility. Attorney Hill objected to these questions on the ground that they had nothing to do with the case of assault and battery which they were here to try. Plaintiff was instructed to confine himself more closely to the case, and proceeded by stating that upon the 24th day of July, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, his wife did strike him in the eye. Being asked to tell the story just as it occurred, he said he was sitting in front of their place of business when A. C. Rowe came along and wanted some tobies. Douglass entered the store and proceeded to wait upon the customer, when his wife came from somewhere in the rear of the store and told Mr. Rowe to give her the money, as she was responsible for the bills and would have them to pay. She did not get it, however, as the purchase had already been paid for and he had the money in his pocket. In the meantime Douglass had taken a cigar from the box and proceeded to light it, whereupon his wife had remonstrated, accusing him of smoking up all the profits. She became very angry and hit him a "clout in the eye," which also knocked the cigar from his mouth. He never said a word, but went outside, remarking that she was a pretty good hitter. Witness said the whole affair was caused by some woman who wanted to board with the family, to which he objected. He attempted to throw the woman's outfit into the street, but his step-daughter sat on the trunk and laughed at him. His mother-in-law had told him his wife and her daughter would throw him out, and now he believed it. In fact his wife had on more than one occasion threatened to throw him out. He testified that within the last two weeks he had contributed $21 to the support of the family and thought he was surely entitled to some privileges.

On cross-examination Douglass said he had been working that day, but had probably one drink before returning home; he was not so drunk as to be quarrelsome. He told Mr. Hill his wife "hailed off and gave him a clout in the eye." Witness said his wife went back into the house after this, and he, thinking she was after the poker, went outside.

Attorney McDonald took the witness again and in answer to a question he stated that the blow was a vicious one; he did not remember whether his wife had said any cuss words—she swore so much he would not like to say whether she swore on that occasion or not.

Mr. Rowe was then sworn. He said he was foreman at Thompson's pottery; was acquainted with the parties, and was there at the time the altercation took place. He remembered of buying the tobies and that Douglass had put the money into his pocket. Mrs. Douglass told him to pay her after this and he said he would. She had said she did not propose to pay the bills and let Douglass take the money for booze. He did not see Mrs. Douglass strike her husband and didn't see him strike at her. She didn't seem to be in a bad humor. He had been asked to patronize the store by Sam and he did it because it was handy. He didn't hear Mrs. Douglass say "get out, you dog." At this point Attorney McDonald attempted to show that Rowe was an unwilling witness and didn't believe he was telling all he knew. He did not hear any scuffle or other indication of trouble inside. To the court the witness said he had not seen a blow struck, nor a cigar knocked from anyone's mouth.

On cross-examination by McDonald witness said a blow might have been struck, but he didn't hear it.

Mrs. Douglass was then examined. She was working in the rear of the house; heard the door open and shut and when she came out she saw Sam waiting on the customer. She told Rowe to pay her hereafter. Sam said for her to go about her business and not bother him. She said she wouldn't do it, and told him he was drunk, and she didn't propose to have him around.

In beginning the cross-examination of the witness Attorney McDonald used the word "seance" in connection with the trouble leading up to the alleged assault, to which Hill objected, fearing his client would not understand, urging the attorney for the plaintiff to use better English. The tilt would probably have gone on for hours had not the court been of the opinion that much valuable time was being wasted and so expressed himself, at which the trial was proceeded with.

Mrs. Douglass told McDonald on cross-examination that she had told the men not to pay Sam any money; had accused him of smoking up all the profits, but she didn't "swipe" at the cigar or "clout" him in the eye; she was very angry, however, and was mad enough to hit him had he attempted to strike her first. Being asked the question witness stated Sam was her husband, but she was ashamed to own him as such. Asked what he ought to think of her, she said he should be proud to have such a wife.

The attorneys spent a short time in arguments and the justice was of the opinion that there had been no assault and dismissed the case.

Although the case was a trivial one and should never have found its way into court, it will be remembered by at least one of the participants, as it was E. W. Hill's maiden effort, and the fact that he won his case will make it especially important to him.

THE ATTACK RENEWED

Pekin July 26.

THE FOREIGNERS IN DESPAIR.

LT. COL. SHIBA REPORTED THEY COULDN'T
40—TRANSMITTED BY COOLIDGE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Adjutant General Corbin received a dispatch from Lieutenant Colonel Coolidge, commanding the Ninth infantry at Tien Tsin. It came by way of Che Foo and is as follows:

"TIEN TSIN, 27.—Following letter
of Lieutenant Colonel Shiba, military
attache at the legation of Peking, dated July 23, arrived Tien Tsin 25, at 9
o'clock in the evening:

"PEKIN, July 22, evening.—We are
all awaiting impatiently arrival of reinforcing army. When are you coming?
All legations have been blockaded since 13th last month, and since the 20th we have been attacked continually night
and day by the Chinese soldiers from
more than ten encampments. By a supreme effort we are still defending.

"We are daily awaiting with the greatest anxiety arrival of reinforcing
army and if you can't reach here in less than a week's time it is probable that
we will be unable to hold out any longer.
Emperor and empress dowager appear
to be still at Peking. Were our reinforcements to arrive very probable that they would flee to Wan Shoshan. Killed
and wounded up to date, eight killed,
one a captain of infantry and an am-
bassador's attache; seven seriously
wounded, the first secretary of legation
being one of 20 slightly wounded. The number of Europeans killed is 60 in all.
(Signed) "COOLIDGE."

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Tien Tsin dispatch said Major Waller, July 27, received a message from Conger, dated
July 21. There had been no firing since July 16, by agreement. They had provisions for several weeks, but little ammunition. He added that if the Chinese continued to bombard as they
had done the foreigners could not hold
out long and a general massacre would follow. He hoped relief would come soon. Conger added: "Glad to hear
of the victory at Tien Tsin, but regret
terrible cost. All are safe and well."

CHINA DECLARED WAR.

Broke Off Negotiations With Legations
June 18 and Two Days Later Proclaimed Hostilities.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A special dis-
patch from Tien Tsin July 31 says:
"A Peking message, dated July 2, reports that the first outside news
reached there July 18. The failure of the relief expedition made the siege
far more perilous. On June 19 the Tung-Li-Yamen broke off relations.
June 20 China declared war. Baron
von Ketteler and Francis James, an English professor, were murdered.
Over 400 non-combatants occupied the British legation. I understand converts are holding the North cathedral.
A thousand refugees occupied the palace of Prince Lu. A truce began July 17, after 26 days of fierce assault.
One night the shelling was uninterr-
rupted for six hours. Four attempts
were made to fire the British legation.
Two attacks resulted in the ruin of Han-Lin college (the Chinese national college). The cowardice of the Chinese prevented a successful rushing.
"The total killed or died is: Germans, 10; French, 11; British, 5; Russians, 4; Americans, 7; Italians, 7;
converts, 9; total, with wounded, 98.
"The correspondents Morrison, Reid
and Temynt are ill. At least 2,000
Chinese have been killed. The Americans occupy a strong position on the city wall. Provisions are still sufficient. The hospital arrangements
are excellent. Everybody is much exhausted by continuous work. Imperial edicts have commended the Boxers
and ordered missionaries to leave the
interior and commanded all viceroys
to help Peking, but an edict dated July 18 enjoins protection to property. The report that a large relief force was coming produced this change. Foreign governments should beware of being hoodwinked."

DISPOSED TO NEGOTIATE.

Jap Minister So Reported as His Impression of the Attitude of Chinese, July 19.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Japanese consul at Tien Tsin telegraphed
on the 27th inst. a dispatch dated the

19th from the Japanese minister at Peking to the foreign office at Tokio,
which had reached Tien Tsin by special courier on the 25th. The minister
said:

"The Japanese marines and others
continue, under the command of the military attache, Lieutenant Colonel Shiba, to resist the repeated attacks of Tung-Fuh-Siang's troops. I think we can hold out, though the task is by no
means an easy one, until we are relieved by the division of Japanese
troops which, I hear through a special
messenger, will arrive at Tien Tsin by
the end of this month. The Chinese
have stopped firing since the 17th, and
the Chinese authorities are apparently disposed to open negotiations.

"Attache Kojima, Captain Ando, of
the imperial army, Mr. H. Nakamura
and five marines have been killed;
while Narabara, second secretary of
the legation, a student, and six marines have been wounded, though not mortally. Many others have also been slightly wounded."

VICTORIA'S SON DEAD.

Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha Expired of Heart Failure—To Lie in State
in England.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Duke of Saxe-
Coburg-Gotha, the second son of Queen Victoria, died at Coburg of heart
failure.

The news of his death was communicated to the queen and the Prince of Wales. The bells of the royal chapel were tolled, and the announcement of the duke's death was officially issued throughout the kingdom. The duke's body will be brought to England to lie in state. The young
Duke of Albany succeeds to the title.
Recently at a consultation of specialists in Vienna it was discovered that there was a cancerous growth at the root of the duke's tongue. At the desire
of the duchess and other members of
the family who were aware of the nature of his disease, the duke took up
his residence at Rosenau. His royal highness was unaware of the real
state of his health and hoped he would
recover. The news of the death of the duke created a sensation in London,
as it was totally unexpected.

TWO ELPERS MOBBED AND PAINTED BLUE.

Mansfield, O., Citizens Show Their Anger
Toward Dowie's Followers—Fusil-
lade of Stones.

MANSFIELD, Aug. 1.—A crowd of
about 4,000 infuriated citizens mobbed
Zion Elders A. W. McChirkin and E.
P. Fisher, of Chicago. The Zion flock,
numbering about 30, held services at
the home of a Zion member, conducted
by Elder McChirkin, M. Sevens, evangelical professor of Chicago, and Elder McFarlan, of Marion. A crowd gathered and the elders barricaded the house. Rocks were thrown through
the windows and the doors battered
down. Several members of the mob
were struck by stones hurled back by
the elders. Three were severely injured. Sheriff Pulver, the chief of police, and a police detail arrived, but
were powerless. The house was almost wrecked and the Zion elders were struck by stones or sticks, but not seriously injured. The mob threatened to dynamite the house. Soon the mob
forced an entrance and Fisher and Mc-Chirkin were dragged away to the
harrow works, where they were stripped naked and painted from head to foot. The paint was applied first
with brushes, then buckets of paint
were poured on them. They were then taken to the police headquarters,
where they were turned over to the police.

The mob congregated again in front of the jail. When Mayor Brown ordered them to disperse in the name of the law they did so quietly and orderly.
Many women were in the mob. The following telegram was sent to Dowie
by the mob:

"Elder Fisher and his mate have been nicely painted blue. The police
were busy looking for the nutspielers attached with the nickelplate show, hence the elders were nicely dabbed with the original ottermeren
blue. Waiting for more orders.

JOHN C. RIDPATH DEAD

Demise of Noted Indiana Historian In New York.

WIFE AND SON WITH HIM.

Complication of Diseases Caused the Great
Scholar's Death—Wrote a Number of Historical Works—Once Professor at De-
pauw—Ran For Congress at One Time.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—John Clark
Ridpath, the historian, died in the Presbyterian hospital from a complication of diseases. He had been a patient in the hospital since April 26.

At the time of the historian's death
his wife and son, S. E. Ridpath, were at the bedside. The body was later
removed from the hospital.

John Clark Ridpath, LL. D., the historian, was born in Putnam county,
Ind., in April, 1841. There was not at that time a wagonroad within three miles of the log cabin in which he was born. His parents were from Christianburg, Va. His mother was a descendant of Samuel Matthews, one of
the colonial governors of Virginia.

He was graduated from Asbury (now DePauw) university in 1863, taking
first honors. After serving as principal of an academy at Thorntown, Ind.,
and as superintendent of public schools

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH.

at Lawrenceburg, he was called, in 1869, to the chair of English literature at DePauw. His career as a professor in the university was distinguished. He was transferred later to
the chair of history and political philosophy. He became a conspicuous figure in the college world. He distinguished himself by his ability to think clearly, speak fluently and write mas-
terfully.

In 1875 he published his first book,
an "Academic History of the United States." It was an immediate success. It still holds its place as a text book in many schools. In 1876 he published his "Popular History of the United States," a large octavo volume,
of which more than 400,000 copies
have been sold. It has been published
also in German. He wrote the "Life
and Work of Garfield," of which 85,000
copies were sold. His "Cyclopaedia of Universal History" was published in 1885 in four octavo volumes. It is a monument to the author's power of generalization and to the breadth and
accuracy of his historical vision. More than 150,000 sets of this history have
been sold.

In 1885 he resigned his professorship
in DePauw and the vice presidency of
the university in order that he might
devote his whole time to the profession of authorship. In 1893 he published his "Life and Work of James
G. Blaine," and in 1894 his most comprehensive and philosophical work entitled "Great Races of Mankind" in four volumes. He was engaged for 10 years in preparing the material and
four years in writing this work. In 1898 he published his "Life and Times
of Gladstone" and a supplement to
the "History of All Nations" for Webster's Dictionary. He was for a time
editor of the Arena Magazine of Boston. His monographs are numerous.
In 1896 he consented unwillingly to run for congress on the Democratic ticket in his home district in Indiana.
Though he ran ahead of his ticket he
was defeated by a small majority. In recent years he has been engaged in
the preparation of a complete and
elaborate history of the United States.

WOMAN HEALED BY FAITH.

Had Been Ill for About 14 Years, Some Four of Them Being Bedridden.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Violetta
Crump, of Industry, Pa., after being ill
about 14 years, about four years of the time being bedridden, has been

cured by faith in prayer.

Mrs. Crump has had the double af-
liction of spinal trouble and a nervous disorder. She had been paral-yzed in portions of the body for many years and wore a special brace for the upper part of the body, closely
resembling a harness.

On the 27th day of April, 1899, Mrs.
Crump accepted faith healing and was
annointed. She arose from her couch,
discarded all supports, walked to the
pump in the rear of the house and
pumped unaided a pail of water, carried
the bucket into the kitchen and without assistance prepared and cooked the next
meal for the family. She has never returned to her couch, a three months'
supply of remedies and ointments have
been sacrificed and new strength is rapidly building up the worn and emaciated
body into a condition of perfect health
and plumpness. Mrs. Crump is about 38 years of age.

Mrs. Crump was not permitted to give her testimony before the world until a satisfactory limit of time had expired, in order that the cure might be tested as to the prospect of its permanency. Fifteen months have now
elapsed since she arose from her couch
and discarded brace and bottle, and her
story, told at the Christian Alliance
rooms in this city, was for the first time
made public. Mrs. Crump has returned to her home in Industry. Her statement will be sent out by the Rev. E. D.
Whitesides, director of the Alliance
rooms.

Upward Spurt In Union Pacific and Real-
izing In Sugar Caused Animation
at Close.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Some animation was given to the closing dealings
in the stock market Tuesday by the conflicting movements of prices engen-
dered by the upward spurt in Union Pacific and the realizing in Sugar. The break in Sugar proved the more effective in its influence, and the market
closed weak at about the low level of
the day, after having shown considerable gains in many stocks at an earlier
period. The trading was dull and continued entirely in professional hands.
The early strength was reflected to some extent from the foreign stock market,
which showed decided relief over the
reliable tenor of the news of the safety
of the envoys in Peking. The small commitments on the bear side put out Monday were closed up, helping the rise.

A number of statements of railroad
net earnings for June published over night were factors of strength. This
was notably true of the Pennsylvania
report. The stock advanced 1½ under
this influence and the price was well
held through the later vicissitudes of
the market, affording a rather striking contrast to the indifference with which June reports of some other railroads
were received.

Sugar fell abruptly to 120½, an extreme decline of four and American Tobacco suddenly dropped three points
in sympathy. Metropolitan showed marked weakness, and the whole list
fell to the lowest, Union Pacific yielding a fraction. There was some evidence of a speculative contest between
the friends of Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio, on account of attempts
on the part of Union Pacific and bears
on Baltimore and Ohio to draw unfavorable comparisons between the price
of Union Pacific, with dividends declared at the rate of 4 per cent and Baltimore and Ohio with dividend action
yet to be taken. Brooklyn Transit continued rather active Tuesday, but the
movement was not wide and the stock
saved a fractional net gain.

There was a slightly firmer tone to sterling exchange Tuesday, in spite of
a shading of London discount rates.
The question of gold exports this week
remains undecided, with Tuesday's conditions against the probability.

U. S. refunding 2s when issued declined ½ and the 3s, old 4s and 5s ¼ at the last call Tuesday.

BADEN-POWELL AGAIN BESIEGED.

Hero of Mafeking In a Perilous Position
at Rustenburg.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Lord Roberts reported to the War Office July 31 that General Methuen marched 21 miles
and engaged the enemy, who were fighting a rear guard action. These Boers were presumably DeWet's com-
mando.

General Roberts also sent a report
concerning Baden-Powell, who was
hemmed in at Rustenburg, which was not encouraging. He says that all the cyclist messengers Baden-Powell has
sent out have been captured.

Bishop Moore Going to China.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—Bishop David
H. Moore, who was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, with
stationary residence at Shanghai, China,
by the last general conference, delivered
his farewell address here and announced
that he would start for China Wednesday.

PRAYED BY HIS BODY.

Queen Marguerite Spent the Long Hours
of a Night at Dead Humbert's
Beside.

MONZA, Aug. 1.—The body of King
Humbert, dressed in black, laid on the bed ordinarily used by him. Around
the massive candelabra, holding burning tapers, at the foot and head of the bed, are placed flowers by Queen Marguerite, who passed the long hours of
the night in prayer by the bed on which the body lies. Father Big-nami, the court chaplain, is in immediate charge of the bier. The Cardinal Archbishop of Milan ordered a requiem mass in all churches of his diocese.

Bressi maintained an air of the utmost cynicism. In the course of his examination he declared himself to be
a revolutionary anarchist, and said
he was ready to resume operations if
he were released.

Milan, Aug. 1.—Mme. Romela and her son, at whose house Bressi, the assassin, stayed while here, were arrested. King Victor Emmanuel III.
arrived at Brindisi unexpectedly. The
young queen fainted when she heard
of the assassination of King Humbert.
The king and queen started for Monza
immediately after reaching Brindisi.

Rome, Aug. 1.—In the absence of
the new king the ministry issued in
his name a manifesto to the nation.

George Daniels Dead.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—George Daniels,
United States consul at Hull, under President Harrison's administration,
died here.

THE BOYCOTTER.

He is a close relation of the anarchist and the assassin. As a rule, the boycotter is a coward and a poltroon. Respectfully referred to any one whom the shoe fits, and especially to the creatures who have lately been threatening to boycott business and professional men in East Liverpool.

CITY POLICE.

The idea of the average citizen is that the policeman is a guardian of the peace, a welcome sight on a dark night, amid danger and dread, to the law abiding and law observing citizen, and a dread to the law breaker, thug, gambler, thief and illegal liquor seller. When he fails to fill this bill he fails to be a peace guardian and an efficient officer, and he should make room for a better man.

ON TO PEKING.

The allied armies are concentrating for an advance on Peking. The United States, in common with the other great powers, seems to have awakened to the fact that the Chinese leaders and diplomats have been trifling in order to gain time. It now looks as if earnest work is intended. The eyes of the whole civilized world are fastened upon Peking, and the fate of the legations at that point is indeed a hard one. God grant them safe deliverance.

CIGARETTES.

And now the leading railroads of the country have commenced to bar the deadly, dangerous cigarette. The companies will permit their employes to smoke either cigars or pipes, but draw the line on the baneful, brain and body destroying cigarette. Pity that the government will not forbid the manufacture or sale. Cigarette fiends will soon find that employers of workmen all over the land have no use for their services. Whisky and beer guzzlers will soon share the same fate. Speed the day.

POLITICAL.

Take your choice of this situation: McKinley and prosperity. Sound currency and solid credit throughout the civilized world. Workshops hustling and workmen happy. A continuation of the present unparalleled good times. Bryan and disaster. Business unsettled. An unsound and unsafe currency. Credit impaired or destroyed throughout the civilized world. Workshops idle and workmen miserable. An era of distrust, business depression and poverty.

Workmen, take your choice.

ANARCHY.

The anarchist and the assassin, in common with all backers, aiders and abettors of the miserable cowards, should be banished from the United States, now and forever; and there should be some law to punish men and women who dare to jubilate and celebrate, in this land of freedom, the assassination or murder of any one, high or low, rich or poor. Such measures are hateful to our people, born and bred in this country, and our laws should banish from our shores all creatures like unto those jubilators

at Paterson, N. J., and force them to return to the lands which they have cursed in former days. We have no use for such scum.

READ IT.

Don't dare to miss it. Turn to the article headed "Horrors of the India Famine," appearing on our first page of today's issue, and read the personal experience of Louis Klopsch while in India. The story is one which will surely appeal to the heart and pocket book of every man and woman who loves God and humanity. In the name of that charity which "covers a multitude of sins," we appeal to our readers, residents of this prosperous city of East Liverpool, to add their mite to the fund which is being raised to aid this starving, suffering, dying people. God will surely reward you if you aid your brothers and sisters in this awful time of need. Money will be forwarded to New York as soon as received at this office, and will at once be forwarded from that point to India by telegraph, giving almost instantaneous relief and possibly saving many human lives. Act at once.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The News Review is published in the interest of the people of this city, and the people have a right to be heard through its columns. The purpose is to champion all good and true business measures that will be conducive of the greatest good to the greatest mass, and to condemn every measure which will retard our prosperity and progress. All trickery and chicanery against the people and the taxpayers will be fully and fearlessly exposed when backed by full and explicit proof. There are some very ugly rumors afloat at present respecting persons who are said to be guilty of malfeasance in office, and this paper has been urged to go after the offenders; but the proof furnished the manager has not been sufficient to warrant him in so doing. Watch for developments. No individual or body of individuals have the right to use an office, the gift of the people, for their own personal aggrandizement at the expense of the people. Skulduggery and trickery may win for a time; but these foul practices are sure to be exposed, and the exposure always hits very hard, and when least expected.

BENDHEIM'S.

night was a disgrace to the city of East Liverpool and her citizens, and it is a shame that Marshal Thompson and his roundsmen did not put a stop to it and land the principals and every one connected therewith in the city lockup. These men were known to the officers, and it was also known that they were about to engage in a prize fight. We have it from reliable authority that the boat was moored to one of the piers of the bridge and that the spectators could step from the Ohio shore upon a coal boat or barge and from there to the boat upon which the brutal fight was being waged. Further, we have it from a trustworthy source that the language made use of was simply horrible in its profanity and vulgarity, and could be plainly heard from Second street. Thugs and plug uglies have evidently been led to believe that, in consequence of the disgrace put upon our city on Saturday, July 21, they can do as they please in this neighborhood. Fellow citizens, it rests with you to declare that such foul and disgraceful work shall not control, and you have the right to demand that our city marshal shall enforce the law. If he cannot control and conquer the element which ruled on Monday night, let him so declare, and conservative and law abiding citizens will invoke the aid of the state officials.

HIT HARD BY AMERICANS.

Our Marines At Peking Gave the Chinese a Stunning Blow.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Tien Tsin dispatch says according to Peking advices the American marines there on the night of July 3, made a sortie, under Captain Myers, and hit the Chinese hard. Myers was slightly wounded in the engagement.

It was inferred from the dispatch that the American legation was still standing.

THE BOYCOTTER.

He is a close relation of the anarchist and the assassin. As a rule, the boycotter is a coward and a poltroon. Respectfully referred to any one whom the shoe fits, and especially to the creatures who have lately been threatening to boycott business and professional men in East Liverpool.

CITY POLICE.

The idea of the average citizen is that the policeman is a guardian of the peace, a welcome sight on a dark night, amid danger and dread, to the law abiding and law observing citizen, and a dread to the law breaker, thug, gambler, thief and illegal liquor seller. When he fails to fill this bill he fails to be a peace guardian and an efficient officer, and he should make room for a better man.

ON TO PEKING.

The allied armies are concentrating for an advance on Peking. The United States, in common with the other great powers, seems to have awakened to the fact that the Chinese leaders and diplomats have been trifling in order to gain time. It now looks as if earnest work is intended. The eyes of the whole civilized world are fastened upon Peking, and the fate of the legations at that point is indeed a hard one. God grant them safe deliverance.

CIGARETTES.

And now the leading railroads of the country have commenced to bar the deadly, dangerous cigarette. The companies will permit their employes to smoke either cigars or pipes, but draw the line on the baneful, brain and body destroying cigarette. Pity that the government will not forbid the manufacture or sale. Cigarette fiends will soon find that employers of workmen all over the land have no use for their services. Whisky and beer guzzlers will soon share the same fate. Speed the day.

POLITICAL.

Take your choice of this situation: McKinley and prosperity. Sound currency and solid credit throughout the civilized world. Workshops hustling and workmen happy. A continuation of the present unparalleled good times. Bryan and disaster. Business unsettled. An unsound and unsafe currency. Credit impaired or destroyed throughout the civilized world. Workshops idle and workmen miserable. An era of distrust, business depression and poverty.

Workingmen, take your choice.

ANARCHY.

The anarchist and the assassin, in common with all backers, aiders and abettors of the miserable cowards, should be banished from the United States, now and forever; and there should be some law to punish men and women who dare to jubilate and celebrate, in this land of freedom, the assassination or murder of any one, high or low, rich or poor. Such measures are hateful to our people, born and bred in this country, and our laws should banish from our shores all creatures like unto those jubilators

at Paterson, N. J., and force them to return to the lands which they have cursed in former days. We have no use for such scum.

READ IT.

Don't dare to miss it. Turn to the article headed "Horrors of the India Famine," appearing on our first page of today's issue, and read the personal experience of Louis Klopsch while in India. The story is one which will surely appeal to the heart and pocket book of every man and woman who loves God and humanity. In the name of that charity which "covers a multitude of sins," we appeal to our readers, residents of this prosperous city of East Liverpool, to add their mite to the fund which is being raised to aid this starving, suffering, dying people. God will surely reward you if you aid your brothers and sisters in this awful time of need. Money will be forwarded to New York as soon as received at this office, and will at once be forwarded from that point to India by telegraph, giving almost instantaneous relief and possibly saving many human lives. Act at once.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The News Review is published in the interest of the people of this city, and the people have a right to be heard through its columns. The purpose is to champion all good and true business measures that will be conducive of the greatest good to the greatest mass, and to condemn every measure which will retard our prosperity and progress. All trickery and chicanery against the people and the taxpayers will be fully and fearlessly exposed when backed by full and explicit proof. There are some very ugly rumors afloat at present respecting persons who are said to be guilty of malfeasance in office, and this paper has been urged to go after the offenders; but the proof furnished the manager has not been sufficient to warrant him in so doing. Watch for developments. No individual or body of individuals have the right to use an office, the gift of the people, for their own personal aggrandizement at the expense of the people. Skulduggery and trickery may win for a time; but these foul practices are sure to be exposed, and the exposure always hits very hard, and when least expected.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS.

Among the most distinguished members of congress from the state during the entire century was Joshua R. Giddings, the great anti-slavery leader, who was returned to congress eleven times by an admiring constituency, once receiving a vote of confidence, at his own request.

Joshua Reed Giddings was born in Athens, Pa., in 1795, and at eleven years of age came to Ashtabula county with his parents. In 1838 he was elected as a Whig to congress, but soon became prominent as an advocate of the right of petition and the abolition of slavery and the domestic slave trade.

In 1841 the "Creole," an American vessel, sailed from Virginia to Louisiana with a cargo of slaves, who got possession of the vessel, ran into the British port of Nassau, and, in accordance with British law, were set free; whereupon Mr. Webster, secretary of state, wrote to Edward Everett, United States minister to London, saying that the government would demand indemnification for the slaves. In consequence Mr. Giddings offered in the house a series of resolutions, in which it was declared that as slavery was an abridgment of a natural right it had no force beyond the territorial jurisdiction that created it; that when an American vessel was on the high seas it was under the jurisdiction of the general government, which did not sanction slavery, and, therefore, the mutineers of the "Creole" had only assumed their natural right to liberty, and to attempt to enslave them would be dishonorable. Although he temporarily withdrew the resolutions, the house passed a vote of censure, 125 to 69, whereupon he resigned, and, appealing to his constituents, was re-elected by an immense majority. For 21 years he held his seat in congress, opposing every encroachment of the slave power with a boldness and strength that won the fear and respect of its advocates. Whenever he spoke he was listened to with great attention, and had several affrays, in which he always triumphed. He declined re-election from ill health in 1860, and died at Montreal in 1864 and while holding the position of United States consul in Canada. His disease was atrophy of the heart. Towards the close of his congressional career he had one time, while speaking, fallen to the floor. The members gathered around, thinking he was dead. For eight minutes his heart ceased to beat. He was the author of several political works, mainly essays, bearing upon the subject of slavery.

Mr. Giddings was first elected to congress in 1838, vice Elisha Whittlesley, resigned. He entered the Twenty-fifth congress and served continuously to the end of the Thirty-fifth, March 4, 1861. He had practically the same constituency throughout. He was elected from the Sixteenth district in 1838, composed of Ashtabula, Trumbull and Geauga counties. In 1842 it became the Twentieth district, embracing Ashtabula, Geauga, Lake and Cuyahoga.

ANDREW LOOMIS.

Andrew Loomis of Columbiana county was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1836 from the Seventeenth district, Columbiana county, and resigned in 1838. The quiet pursuits of private life had greater charms for him than public office.

CHARLES D. COFFIN

Was elected successor to Andrew Loomis to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1838 and served out the vacancy caused by the latter's resignation. In 1842, after leaving congress, he went to Cincinnati to enter upon the practice of law, and was elected judge of the superior court, and incidentally became a prominent newspaper writer, and after leaving the bench followed his profession for many years. He was born in Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 10, 1804, and died in Cincinnati, Feb. 28, 1880.

MATTHIAS SHEPLAR.

Matthias Sheplar was a Democrat of local prominence in Stark county, and had distinguished himself as a state legislator, having been elected to the house in 1829, serving two years, and to the senate in 1832, serving years. In 1836 he was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress from the Eleventh district, composed of Stark and Wayne counties. Born in Pennsylvania in 1793. Located in Stark county in early life, where he died at an advanced age.

HENRY SWEARENGEN

Represented Jefferson county in the state senate from 1829 to 1831, and was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1836 to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Kilgore from the Nineteenth district, Jefferson and Harrison counties. He was re-elected to the Twenty-sixth in 1838 from the same district. He was an attorney, and resumed the practice after leaving congress. In politics he was a Democrat. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1790, and died in Jefferson county, Ohio, at the age of 75.

JOHN B. WELLER.

John B. Weller was born in Hamilton county, Ohio, in 1812, and afterward became a resident and prominent citizen of the adjoining county of Butler. He entered congress at the age of 26, having been elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Second district—Butler, Preble and Darke counties. He was elected to the Twenty-seventh congress in 1840 from the same district, and again in 1842 was elected to the Twenty-eighth congress from the Second district, which had not been changed in the apportionment of 1842.

Before he reached his thirtieth year he was recognized as one of the leaders of the Democratic party in the state. After leaving congress he resumed the practice of the law and ranked as one of the leading advocates of the Butler county bar. He was strongly in favor of the annexation of Texas, and in the Mexican war was lieutenant colonel of the Second Ohio volunteers, and proved himself a gallant soldier.

In 1848 he was the Democratic candidate for governor against Seabury Ford of Geauga county, the Whig candidate, and the campaign was not only a remarkably bitter one, but the result was long in doubt and dispute, being the first and only disputed gubernatorial election in the state during the century.

The two houses did not meet in joint convention to canvass the vote until the 8th of January, 1849, and then a long and bitter wrangle ensued.

When the third county in its order was called, Senator Henry C. Whitman of Fairfield Democrat, raised the point of order that the speaker

the senate was not opening and publishing the returns of votes for governor, but was only opening and publishing the footings of the returns.

Senator James Myers of Lucas, Democrat, moved that the speaker appoint a select joint committee to add up the votes and report any errors and correct the same before the final result of the canvass was proclaimed.

Senator Andrew H. Byers of Wayne moved to adjourn, which motion was lost 45 to 54. Senator Barnabas Burns of Richland, Democrat, moved that the senate withdraw, which was lost 15 to 19. Representative Benjamin F. Leiter of Stark, Democrat, moved a recess until 3 p. m., which was agreed to, 52 to 41.

At 3 p. m. the opening of the abstracts was completed and the speaker of the senate appointed Backus, Whitman, Beaver and Wilson of the senate, and Leiter, Holcomb, Whitely, Morris, Chaffee, Riddle, Brewer and Bigger of the house to foot the returns and correct all errors that appeared in the abstracts.

On the 9th, this committee reported that the vote, according to the returns opened, showed that Seabury Ford had an aggregate vote of 145,816; John B. Weller had an aggregate vote of 146,105. Also that the vote of Defiance county had been omitted from the computation because the returns were not in conformity to law. Lorain was omitted for the same reason. Ten votes in Van Wert were added to the returns for Weller. In Crawford 84 votes were returned as given for "Seabury." They were not included in the aggregate for Seabury Ford. The votes cast in that part of Morrow county taken from Richland, were included.

Also that John B. Weller having received a majority of 289 votes over Seabury Ford, was duly elected governor and ought to be so declared. The report was signed by Messrs. Whitman, Wilson, Leiter, Whitely, Morris and Brewer, Democrats, one-half of the committee.

Mr. Whitman offered a resolution that a joint committee be appointed to examine the returns in the presence of the two houses. Mr. Dennis, raised a point of order that the resolution was not in order, and the speaker sustained the point. Great confusion prevailed, in the midst of which the convention recessed until Jan. 10. On that day it recessed until 10 a. m., the 11th. The controversy continued until Jan. 22, when the following corrected footings were agreed to by the select joint committee of the two houses, who reported that the whole number of votes cast at the election was 297,943, of which Seabury Ford received 148,756, and John B. Weller 148,445, a plurality of 311 for Ford. There were 742 scattering votes.

In 1819 Mr. Weller was commissioned to establish the boundary line between California and Mexico. In 1852 he was elected United States senator from California, and held the office until 1857, when he was elected governor of that state. In 1860 he was appointed minister to Mexico by President Buchanan. He died in New Orleans in 1875, while he had engaged in the practice of law.

WILLIAM DOANE.

William Doane represented Clermont county in the state senate from 1833 to 1835, and was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Fifth district, comprising Clermont, Brown and Adams counties, and was re-elected from the same district to the Twenty-seventh congress in 1840. He was born in Maine in 1789, and removed to Clermont county, where he died at the age of 81.

ISAAC PARRISH.

Guernsey county was represented by Isaac Parrish in 1837 in the house of the Thirty-sixth general assembly, who, in 1838, was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress from the Eleventh district, composed of Guernsey and Belmont counties, and elected to the Twenty-ninth from the Thirteenth district in 1844, Morgan, Perry and Washington counties. He was a quiet, unobtrusive citizen, commanding the respect of all who knew him, and voluntarily retired from public life. He was a lawyer by profession, and was born about the year 1800. He died in Des Moines, Iowa, at an advanced age.

JONATHAN TAYLOR.

General Jonathan Taylor represented Licking county in the house of the Thirty-first general assembly in 1832-1833, and in the senate of the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth, in 1834-1836.

In 1838 he was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress from the Twelfth district, embracing Licking and Muskingum counties. But few men in his day commanded more fully the respect and confidence of the people in his section of the state than General Taylor. Had he chosen to remain in politics, his constituents would have re-elected him to congress during the remainder of his life. But political preferment had fewer allurments for him than the more genial pursuits of life. His public services were ungrudgingly and unselfishly performed. He was active in promoting all the local interests and public interests of his county and the state at large during his lifetime.

He was born in Connecticut in 1796, and died in Licking county in April, 1848. He served as a soldier in the war of 1812. Was a civil engineer by profession, and surveyed the boundary line between Ohio and Michigan under the direction of the government.

GEORGE SWEENEY.

George Sweeney of Crawford county was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Fourteenth district, composed of Crawford, Richland, Seneca, Sandusky and Huron, and was re-elected to the Twenty-seventh in 1840. Aside from this he took no part in the general politics of the state, but was a useful citizen in his own community, where he located early in life, and filled numerous local positions. Born in Pennsylvania in 1800, and lived to an advanced age.

LILIES.

Lilies, white lilies, ye calm my soul,
For the waters are wild and the billows roll,
And love and trust have drifted away
Like the distant sail on the breast of the bay.
In a moment more 'twill have drifted from sight
And be hidden away in the waste of night!

And then ye came with your pure, sweet gaze,
With your dainty, winsome, loving ways,
And crept like a dear dream into my heart.
I could not bear to send thee apart,
For the fragrance that floats on your balmy breath
To me whispers "peace," though the world calls it death.

He Didn't Succeed In Proving
That His Wife Assaulted
Him.

THE WIFE TOLD HER STORY

The assault and battery case of Samuel Douglass against his wife, Marietta Douglass, was tried in the court of Justice McCarron yesterday afternoon, and a decision was rendered at 4:45.

The parties to the suit have conducted a restaurant on lower Broadway for some time and have become celebrated in the past for the frequency and publicity of their domestic troubles.

Douglass had retained J. E. McDonald to look after his end of the case, while Mrs. Douglass, not being aware of the attorneys' vacation and supposing she could have a man on the spot at a moment's notice, had neglected that part of the matter until she arrived at the office of the justice. The result was that considerable delay was occasioned, but E. W. Hill was finally prevailed upon to accept her case, and the witnesses all being present the suit was proceeded with.

Mr. Douglass was sworn and testified in his own behalf. Witness said he lived on Broadway; been a resident of East Liverpool for about 10 years, and had lived in various places in town; now resided in property of Freddy Wilson, which was rented by him, he paying the rent and assuming all responsibility. Attorney Hill objected to these questions on the ground that they had nothing to do with the case of assault and battery which they were here to try. Plaintiff was instructed to confine himself more closely to the case, and proceeded by stating that upon the 24th day of July, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, his wife did strike him in the eye. Being asked to tell the story just as it occurred, he said he was sitting in front of their place of business when A. C. Rowe came along and wanted some tobies. Douglass entered the store and proceeded to wait upon the customer, when his wife came from somewhere in the rear of the store and told Mr. Rowe to give her the money, as she was responsible for the bills and would have them to pay. She did not get it, however, as the purchase had already been paid for and he had the money in his pocket. In the meantime Douglass had taken a cigar from the box and proceeded to light it, whereupon his wife had remonstrated, accusing him of smoking up all the profits. She became very angry and hit him a "clout in the eye," which also knocked the cigar from his mouth. He never said a word, but went outside, remarking that she was a pretty good hitter. Witness said the whole affair was caused by some woman who wanted to board with the family, to which he objected. He attempted to throw the woman's outfit into the street, but his step-daughter sat on the trunk and laughed at him. His mother-in-law had told him his wife and her daughter would throw him out, and now he believed it. In fact his wife had on more than one occasion threatened to throw him out. He testified that within the last two weeks he had contributed $21 to the support of the family and thought he was surely entitled to some privileges.

On cross-examination Douglass said he had been working that day, but had probably one drink before returning home; he was not so drunk as to be quarrelsome. He told Mr. Hill his wife "hailed off and gave him a clout in the eye." Witness said his wife went back into the house after this, and he, thinking she was after the poker, went outside.

Attorney McDonald took the witness again and in answer to a question he stated that the blow was a vicious one; he did not remember whether his wife had said any cuss words—she swore so much he would not like to say whether she swore on that occasion or not.

Mr. Rowe was then sworn. He said he was foreman at Thompson's pottery; was acquainted with the parties, and was there at the time the altercation took place. He remembered of buying the tobies and that Douglass had put the money into his pocket. Mrs. Douglass told him to pay her after this and he said he would. She had said she did not propose to pay the bills and let Douglass take the money for booze. He did not see Mrs. Douglass strike her husband and didn't see him strike at her. She didn't seem to be in a bad humor. He had been asked to patronize the store by Sam and he did it because it was handy. He didn't hear Mrs. Douglass say "get out, you dog." At this point Attorney McDonald attempted to show that Rowe was an unwilling witness and didn't believe he was telling all he knew. Witness said he objected to telling the same story over again, but was ordered by the court to repeat it as many times as the attorneys might wish. He had bought tobies there three or four times a day, but never bought any "booze." Hill objected to the question and stated it had no bearing on the case whatever, as murder could be committed in the kitchen of the same house and not have anything to do with the assault and battery case now being tried. Witness had eaten two meals in the place, one on Sunday two weeks ago and one last Sunday, on both of which occasions he had some beer, but not at the table; he had drank it with Sam outside.

The court asked witness if, at the time the cigars were bought, he had seen the cigar knocked from plaintiff's mouth. He said he did not, but Douglass had came out of the store and said he "believed she hit him."

Mrs. Douglass and Marian Martin were sworn for the defense and Mr. Martin was put on the stand. He said he had been boarding at the house for two weeks, during the absence of his family; was in front of the store at the time the trouble occurred. In answer to questions by Mr. Hill witness said he was on the side of the door opposite the cigar case and about 12 feet from it, and could readily hear anything that was said inside. Some delay was here caused by the attorneys as to the nature of the testimony being given by Mr. Martin. When he again resumed he stated he had heard Mrs. Douglass say, "Don't you dare hit me." He did not hear any scuffle or other indication of trouble inside. To the court the witness said he had not seen a blow struck, nor a cigar knocked from anyone's mouth.

On cross-examination by McDonald witness said a blow might have been struck, but he didn't hear it.

Mrs. Douglass was then examined. She was working in the rear of the house; heard the door open and shut and when she came out she saw Sam waiting on the customer. She told Rowe to pay her hereafter. Sam said for her to go about her business and not bother him. She said she wouldn't do it, and told him he was drunk, and she didn't propose to have him around.

In beginning the cross-examination of the witness Attorney McDonald used the word "seance" in connection with the trouble leading up to the alleged assault, to which Hill objected, fearing his client would not understand, urging the attorney for the plaintiff to use better English. The tilt would probably have gone on for hours had not the court been of the opinion that much valuable time was being wasted and so expressed himself, at which the trial was proceeded with.

Mrs. Douglass told McDonald on cross-examination that she had told the men not to pay Sam any money; had accused him of smoking up all the profits, but she didn't "swipe" at the cigar or "clout" him in the eye; she was very angry, however, and was mad enough to hit him had he attempted to strike her first. Being asked the question witness stated Sam was her husband, but she was ashamed to own him as such. Asked what he ought to think of her, she said he should be proud to have such a wife.

The attorneys spent a short time in arguments and the justice was of the opinion that there had been no assault and dismissed the case.

Although the case was a trivial one and should never have found its way into court, it will be remembered by at least one of the participants, as it was E. W. Hill's maiden effort, and the fact that he won his case will make it especially important to him.

DOUGLASS CASE WAS DISMISSED

He Didn't Succeed In Proving
That His Wife Assaulted
Him.

Saw the Defendant Strike Her Husband or Knock a Cigar
From His Mouth.

THE WIFE TOLD HER STORY

The assault and battery case of Samuel Douglass against his wife, Marietta Douglass, was tried in the court of Justice McCarron yesterday afternoon, and a decision was rendered at 4:45.

The parties to the suit have conducted a restaurant on lower Broadway for some time and have become celebrated in the past for the frequency and publicity of their domestic troubles.

Douglass had retained J. E. McDonald to look after his end of the case, while Mrs. Douglass, not being aware of the attorneys' vacation and supposing she could have a man on the spot at a moment's notice, had neglected that part of the matter until she arrived at the office of the justice. The result was that considerable delay was occasioned, but E. W. Hill was finally prevailed upon to accept her case, and the witnesses all being present the suit was proceeded with.

Mr. Douglass was sworn and testified in his own behalf. Witness said he lived on Broadway; been a resident of East Liverpool for about 10 years, and had lived in various places in town; now resided in property of Freddy Wilson, which was rented by him, he paying the rent and assuming all responsibility. Attorney Hill objected to these questions on the ground that they had nothing to do with the case of assault and battery which they were here to try. Plaintiff was instructed to confine himself more closely to the case, and proceeded by stating that upon the 24th day of July, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, his wife did strike him in the eye. Being asked to tell the story just as it occurred, he said he was sitting in front of their place of business when A. C. Rowe came along and wanted some tobies. Douglass entered the store and proceeded to wait upon the customer, when his wife came from somewhere in the rear of the store and told Mr. Rowe to give her the money, as she was responsible for the bills and would have them to pay. She did not get it, however, as the purchase had already been paid for and he had the money in his pocket. In the meantime Douglass had taken a cigar from the box and proceeded to light it, whereupon his wife had remonstrated, accusing him of smoking up all the profits. She became very angry and hit him a "clout in the eye," which also knocked the cigar from his mouth. He never said a word, but went outside, remarking that she was a pretty good hitter. Witness said the whole affair was caused by some woman who wanted to board with the family, to which he objected. He attempted to throw the woman's outfit into the street, but his step-daughter sat on the trunk and laughed at him. His mother-in-law had told him his wife and her daughter would throw him out, and now he believed it. In fact his wife had on more than one occasion threatened to throw him out. He testified that within the last two weeks he had contributed $21 to the support of the family and thought he was surely entitled to some privileges.

On cross-examination Douglass said he had been working that day, but had probably one drink before returning home; he was not so drunk as to be quarrelsome. He told Mr. Hill his wife "hailed off and gave him a clout in the eye." Witness said his wife went back into the house after this, and he, thinking she was after the poker, went outside.

Attorney McDonald took the witness again and in answer to a question he stated that the blow was a vicious one; he did not remember whether his wife had said any cuss words—she swore so much he would not like to say whether she swore on that occasion or not.

Mr. Rowe was then sworn. He said he was foreman at Thompson's pottery; was acquainted with the parties, and was there at the time the altercation took place. He remembered of buying the tobies and that Douglass had put the money into his pocket. Mrs. Douglass told him to pay her after this and he said he would. She had said she did not propose to pay the bills and let Douglass take the money for booze. He did not see Mrs. Douglass strike her husband and didn't see him strike at her. She didn't seem to be in a bad humor. He had been asked to patronize the store by Sam and he did it because it was handy. He didn't hear Mrs. Douglass say "get out, you dog." At this point Attorney McDonald attempted to show that Rowe was an unwilling witness and didn't believe he was telling all he knew. Witness said he objected to telling the same story over again, but was ordered by the court to repeat it as many times as the attorneys might wish. He had bought tobies there three or four times a day, but never bought any "booze." Hill objected to the question and stated it had no bearing on the case whatever, as murder could be committed in the kitchen of the same house and not have anything to do with the assault and battery case now being tried. Witness had eaten two meals in the place, one on Sunday two weeks ago and one last Sunday, on both of which occasions he had some beer, but not at the table; he had drank it with Sam outside.

The court asked witness if, at the time the cigars were bought, he had seen the cigar knocked from plaintiff's mouth. He said he did not, but Douglass had come out of the store and said he "believed she hit him."

Mrs. Douglass and Marian Martin were sworn for the defense and Mr. Martin was put on the stand. He said he had been boarding at the house for two weeks, during the absence of his family; was in front of the store at the time the trouble occurred. In answer to questions by Mr. Hill witness said he was on the side of the door opposite the cigar case and about 12 feet from it, and could readily hear anything that was said inside. Some delay was here caused by the attorneys as to the nature of the testimony being given by Mr. Martin. When he again resumed he stated he had heard Mrs. Douglass say, "Don't you dare hit me." He did not hear any scuffle or other indication of trouble inside. To the court the witness said he had not seen a blow struck, nor a cigar knocked from anyone's mouth.

On cross-examination by McDonald witness said a blow might have been struck, but he didn't hear it.

Mrs. Douglass was then examined. She was working in the rear of the house; heard the door open and shut and when she came out she saw Sam waiting on the customer. She told Rowe to pay her hereafter. Sam said for her to go about her business and not bother him. She said she wouldn't do it, and told him he was drunk, and she didn't propose to have him around.

In beginning the cross-examination of the witness Attorney McDonald used the word "seance" in connection with the trouble leading up to the alleged assault, to which Hill objected, fearing his client would not understand, urging the attorney for the plaintiff to use better English. The tilt would probably have gone on for

REPLY TO ROOSEVELT.

Altgeld Will Do So In Toledo
Tonight.

INCENSED AT ST. PAUL SPEECH.

The Committee of the Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs Commenced at Toledo—George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts Among the Visitors Present.

TOLEDO, Aug. 1.—The Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs began a two-day session at the Lyceum theater. Many notables of the party are here, among whom are Hon. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts; Judge Tarvin, of Kentucky. Ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, will speak tomorrow night, in reply to the recent speeches of Hon. Theodore Roosevelt on "Imperialism." Hon. Timothy Tarsney and S. Barkwith, of Michigan; Hon. James M. Robinson, of Indiana; Hon. H. H. McFadden, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, and Judge Allen Smalley, of Upper Sandusky; General I. R. Sherwood and many others of more or less renown.

Mayor Jones delivered one of his characteristic Golden Rule, non-partisan addresses of welcome, and was followed by Dr. Reemelin, of Cincinnati, president of the association. His subject was "A Government Function."

Dr. Reemelin says that ex-Governor Altgeld leaves a sick room to come to Toledo. Dr. Reemelin has been in correspondence with Mr. Altgeld. At first the former Illinois governor wrote Dr. Reemelin that he would not appear in Toledo because he was sick and it would not be advisable for him to come here. And now this story is told: Altgeld was in his room reading Governor Roosevelt's St. Paul speech. The deeper he got into the report the more incensed he became. Finally he got so angry that he called for a messenger boy and indited the following telegram to President Reemelin:

"Can you yet use me at Toledo in August? If so, advise me. I want to reply to Roosevelt."

And tonight ex-Governor Altgeld will make reply to Governor Roosevelt.

D. M. Bull, Bullsville, N. Y., cut on the head.

Dominic Carteney, Italian, cut about face.

Henry Douglas, Lonacoring, Md., passenger fireman, bruised in jumping.

The passengers were all injured in being thrown by the sudden stop. No one is thought to be seriously hurt.

The two trains were to have passed at Mount Savage Junction siding. The fog was so thick that objects could not be seen a few feet away.

Engineer Cunningham, of the passenger engine, and Engineer Darnell and Fireman Collins, of the freight, all jumped.

The engines, while badly damaged, remained on the track. The tender jammed into the baggage coach, but other coaches were but little damaged.

Will Towne Withdraw?

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 1.—The withdrawal of Charles A. Towne from the Populist ticket as a vice presidential candidate is still an undetermined question. Mr. Towne spent some time in Lincoln, most of it with W. J. Bryan. Just before leaving for Chicago he declared that he was not prepared to say whether he will remain on the ticket or withdraw.

THE ATTACK RENEWED

Pekin July 20.

THE FOREIGNERS IN DESPAIR.

LT. Col. Shiba Reported They Couldn't
Probably Hold Out More Than a Week
Longer—Number of Europeans Killed,
40—Transmitted by Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Adjutant
General Corbin received a dispatch from
Lieutenant Colonel Coolidge, command-
ing the Ninth Infantry at Tien Tsin. It
came by way of Che Foo and is as follows:

of Lieutenant Colonel Shiba, military
attache at the legation of Peking, dated
July 23, arrived Tien Tsin 25, at 9
o'clock in the evening:

"PEKIN, July 23, evening.—We are
all awaiting impatiently arrival of reinforcing army. When are you coming?
All legations have been blockaded since 18th last month, and since the 20th we
have been attacked continually night
and day by the Chinese soldiers from
more than ten encampments. By a supreme effort we are still defending.

"We are daily awaiting with the
greatest anxiety arrival of reinforcing
army and if you can't reach here in less
than a week's time it is probable that
we will be unable to hold out any longer.
Emperor and empress dowager appear
to be still at Peking. Were our reinforcements to arrive very probable that
they would flee to Wan Shoshan. Killed
and wounded up to date, eight killed,
one a captain of infantry and an am-
bassador's attache; seven seriously
wounded, the first secretary of legation
being one of 20 slightly wounded. The
(Signed) "COOLIDGE."

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Tien Tsin dispatch said Major Waller, July 27, received a message from Conger, dated
July 21. There had been no firing since
July 16, by agreement. They had provisions for several weeks, but little ammunition. He added that if the Chinese continued to bombard as they
had done the foreigners could not hold
out long and a general massacre would
follow. He hoped relief would come
soon. Conger added: "Glad to hear
of the victory at Tien Tsin, but regret

Broke Off Negotiations With Legations
June 18 and Two Days Later Pro-
claimed Hostilities.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A special dis-
patch from Tien Tsin July 31 says:
"A Peking message, dated July 2, reports that the first outside news
reached there July 18. The failure of
the relief expedition made the siege
far more perilous. On June 19 the Tsung-Li-Yamen broke off relations.
June 20 China declared war. Baron
von Ketteler and Francis James, an English professor, were murdered.
Over 400 non-combatants occupied the British legation. I understand converts are holding the North cathedral.
A thousand refugees occupied the palace of Prince Lu. A truce began July 17, after 26 days of fierce assault.
One night the shelling was uninterr-
rupted for six hours. Four attempts
were made to fire the British legation.
Two attacks resulted in the ruin of Han-Lin college (the Chinese national college). The cowardice of the Chinese prevented a successful rushing.
"The total killed or died is: Germans, 10; French, 11; British, 5; Russians, 4; Americans, 7; Italians, 7;
converts, 9; total, with wounded, 98.
"The correspondents Morrison, Reid
and Tomeny are ill. At least 2,000
Chinese have been killed. The Americans occupy a strong position on the
city wall. Provisions are still sufficient. The hospital arrangements
are excellent. Everybody is much exhausted by continuous work. Imperial
edicts have commended the Boxers
and ordered missionaries to leave the
interior and commanded all viceroys
to help Peking, but an edict dated July 18 enjoins protection to property. The
report that a large relief force was
coming produced this change. Foreign governments should beware of being hoodwinked."

DISPOSED TO NEGOTIATE.

Japan Minister So Reported as His Impression of the Attitude of Chinese, July 19.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Japanese consul at Tien Tsin telegraphed
on the 27th inst. a dispatch dated the

19th from the Japanese minister at Peking to the foreign office at Tokio,
which had reached Tien Tsin by special courier on the 25th. The minister
said:

"The Japanese marines and others
continue, under the command of the
military attache, Lieutenant Colonel
Shiba, to resist the repeated attacks of Tung-Fuh-Siang's troops. I think we
can hold out, though the task is by no
means an easy one, until we are relieved by the division of Japanese
troops which, I hear through a special
messenger, will arrive at Tien Tsin by
the end of this month. The Chinese
have stopped firing since the 17th, and
the Chinese authorities are apparently disposed to open negotiations.

"Attache Kojima, Captain Ando, of
the imperial army, Mr. H. Nakamura
and five marines have been killed;
while Narabara, second secretary of the legation, a student, and six marines have been wounded, though not mortally. Many others have also been slightly wounded."

Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha Expired of Heart Failure—To Lie in State
in England.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Duke of Saxe-
Coburg-Gotha, the second son of Queen Victoria, died at Coburg of heart
failure.

The news of his death was communicated to the queen and the Prince of Wales. The bells of the royal chapel were tolled, and the announcement of the duke's death was
officially issued throughout the kingdom. The duke's body will be brought
to England to lie in state. The young
Duke of Albany succeeds to the title.

Recently at a consultation of specialists in Vienna it was discovered that
there was a cancerous growth at the
root of the duke's tongue. At the desire
of the duchess and other members of
the family who were aware of the
nature of his disease, the duke took up
his residence at Rosenau. His royal
highness was unaware of the real
state of his health and hoped he would
recover. The news of the death of the duke created a sensation in London,

TWO ELPERS MOBBED

AND PAINTED BLUE.

Mansfield, O., Citizens Show Their Anger
Toward Dowie's Followers—Fusil-
lade of Stones.

MANSFIELD, Aug. 1.—A crowd of
about 4,000 infuriated citizens mobbed
Zion Elders A. W. McChirkin and E.
P. Fisher, of Chicago. The Zion flock,
numbering about 30, held services at
the home of a Zion member, conducted
by Elder McChirkin, M. Stevens evangelical professor of Chicago, and Elder McFarlan, of Marion. A crowd gathered and the elders barricaded the house. Rocks were thrown through
the windows and the doors battered
down. Several members of the mob
were struck by stones hurled back by
the elders. Three were severely injured. Sheriff Pulver, the chief of police, and a police detail arrived, but
were powerless. The house was almost wrecked and the Zion elders were
struck by stones or sticks, but not seriously injured. The mob threatened
to dynamite the house. Soon the mob
forced an entrance and Fisher and Mc-Chirkin were dragged away to the
harrow works, where they were stripped naked and painted from head to
foot. The paint was applied first
with brushes, then buckets of paint
were poured on them. They were
then taken to the police headquarters,
where they were turned over to the
police.

The mob congregated again in front
of the jail. When Mayor Brown ordered them to disperse in the name of the
law they did so quietly and orderly.
Many women were in the mob. The
following telegram was sent to Dowie
by the mob:

"Elder Fisher and his mate have
been nicely painted blue. The police
were busy looking for the nut-
crackers attached with the nickelplate show, hence the elders were nicely
dabbed with the original ottermen
blue. Waiting for more orders."

JOHN C. RIDPATH DEAD

Demise of Noted Indiana His-
torian In New York.

WIFE AND SON WITH HIM.

Complication of Diseases Caused the Great
Scholar's Death—Wrote a Number of Historical Works—Once Professor at De-
pauw—Ran For Congress at One Time.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—John Clark
Ridpath, the historian, died in the Presbyterian hospital from a compli-
cation of diseases. He had been a patient in the hospital since April 26.

At the time of the historian's death
his wife and son, S. E. Ridpath, were
at the bedside. The body was later
removed from the hospital.

John Clark Ridpath, LL. D., the historian, was born in Putnam county,
Ind., in April, 1841. There was not at
that time a wagonroad within three
miles of the log cabin in which he was
born. His parents were from Christianburg, Va. His mother was a descendant of Samuel Matthews, one of
the colonial governors of Virginia.

He was graduated from Asbury (now DePauw) university in 1863, taking
first honors. After serving as principal of an academy at Thorntown, Ind.,
and as superintendent of public schools

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH.

at Lawrenceburg, he was called, in 1869, to the chair of English literature at DePauw. His career as a professor in the university was distinguished. He was transferred later to
the chair of history and political philosophy. He became a conspicuous figure in the college world. He distinguished himself by his ability to think
clearly, speak fluently and write mas-
terfully.

In 1875 he published his first book,
an "Academic History of the United States." It was an immediate success. It still holds its place as a text
book in many schools. In 1876 he published his "Popular History of the United States," a large octavo volume,
of which more than 400,000 copies
have been sold. It has been published
also in German. He wrote the "Life
and Work of Garfield," of which 85,000
copies were sold. His "Cyclopaedia of Universal History" was published in 1885 in four octavo volumes. It is a monument to the author's power of
generalization and to the breadth and
accuracy of his historical vision. More
been sold.

In 1885 he resigned his professorship
in DePauw and the vice presidency of
the university in order that he might
devote his whole time to the profession of authorship. In 1893 he published his "Life and Work of James
G. Blaine," and in 1894 his most comprehensive and philosophical work entitled "Great Races of Mankind" in four volumes. He was engaged for 10 years in preparing the material and
four years in writing this work. In 1898 he published his "Life and Times
of Gladstone," and a supplement to
the "History of All Nations" for Web-
ster's Dictionary. He was for a time
editor of the Arena Magazine of Boston. His monographs are numerous.
In 1896 he consented unwillingly to
run for congress on the Democratic
ticket in his home district in Indiana.
Though he ran ahead of his ticket he
was defeated by a small majority. In recent years he has been engaged in
the preparation of a complete and

WOMAN HEALED BY FAITH.

Had Been Ill for About 14 Years, Some Four of Them Being
Bedridden.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Violetta
Crump, of Industry, Pa., after being ill
about 14 years, about four years of

the time being bedridden, has been
cured by faith in prayer.

Mrs. Crump has had the double affliction of spinal trouble and a nervous disorder. She had been paral-yzed in portions of the body for many
years and wore a special brace for the
upper part of the body, closely
resembling a harness.

On the 27th day of April, 1899, Mrs.
Crump accepted faith healing and was
annointed. She arose from her couch,
discarded all supports, walked to the
pump in the rear of the house and
pumped unaided a pail of water, carried
the bucket into the kitchen and without
assistance prepared and cooked the next
meal for the family. She has never returned to her couch, a three months'
supply of remedies and ointments have
been sacrificed and new strength is rapidly building up the worn and emaciated
body into a condition of perfect health
and plumpness. Mrs. Crump is about 38 years of age.

Mrs. Crump was not permitted to
give her testimony before the world until a satisfactory limit of time had expired, in order that the cure might be
tested as to the prospect of its perma-
nency. Fifteen months have now
elapsed since she arose from her couch
and discarded brace and bottle, and her
story, told at the Christian Alliance
rooms in this city, was for the first time
made public. Mrs. Crump has returned to her home in Industry. Her statement will be sent out by the Rev. E. D.
Whitesides, director of the Alliance
rooms.

Upward Spurt in Union Pacific and Real-
izing in Sugar Caused Animation
at Close.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Some anima-
tion was given to the closing dealings
in the stock market Tuesday by the conflicting movements of prices engendered
by the upward spurt in Union Pacific and the realizing in Sugar. The break in Sugar proved the more effective in its influence, and the market
closed weak at about the low level of the day, after having shown considerable gains in many stocks at an earlier
period. The trading was dull and continued entirely in professional hands.
The early strength was reflected to some
extent from the foreign stock market,
which showed decided relief over the
reliable tenor of the news of the safety
of the envoys in Peking. The small commitments on the bear side put out Mon-
day were closed up, helping the rise.

A number of statements of railroad
net earnings for June published over
night were factors of strength. This
was notably true of the Pennsylvania
report. The stock advanced 1½ under
this influence and the price was well
held through the later vicissitudes of
the market, affording a rather striking
contrast to the indifference with which June reports of some other railroads
were received.

Sugar fell abruptly to 120½, an extreme decline of four and American
Tobacco suddenly dropped three points
in sympathy. Metropolitan showed
marked weakness, and the whole list
fell to the lowest, Union Pacific yield-
ing a fraction. There was some evidence of a speculative contest between
the friends of Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio, on account of attempts
on the part of Union Pacific and bears
on Baltimore and Ohio to draw unfavorable comparisons between the price
of Union Pacific, with dividends declared at the rate of 4 per cent and Baltimore and Ohio with dividend action
yet to be taken. Brooklyn Transit continued rather active Tuesday, but the
movement was not wide and the stock
saves a fractional net gain.

There was a slightly firmer tone to
sterling exchange Tuesday, in spite of
a shading of London discount rates.
The question of gold exports this week
remains undecided, with Tuesday's conditions against the probability.

U. S. refunding 2s when issued declined ½ and the 3s, old 4s and 5s ½
at the last call Tuesday.

BADEN-POWELL AGAIN BESIEGED.

Hero of Mafeking In a Perilous Position
at Rustenburg.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Lord Roberts reported to the War Office July 31 that General Methuen marched 21 miles
and engaged the enemy, who were fighting a rear guard action. These Boers were presumably DeWet's com-
mando.

General Roberts also sent a report
concerning Baden-Powell, who was
hemmed in at Rustenburg, which was
not encouraging. He says that all the cyclist messengers Baden-Powell has
sent out have been captured.

Bishop Moore Going to China.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—Bishop David
H. Moore, who was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, with
stationary residence at Shanghai, China,
by the last general conference, delivered
his farewell address here and announced
that he would start for China Wednes-
day.

PRAYED BY HIS BODY.

Queen Marguerite Spent the Long Hours
of a Night at Dead Humbert's Bedside.

MONZA, Aug. 1.—The body of King
Humbert, dressed in black, laid on the
bed ordinarily used by him. Around
the massive candelabra, holding burning tapers, at the foot and head of the
bed, are placed flowers by Queen Marguerite, who passed the long hours of
the night in prayer by the bed on
which the body lies. Father Big-nami, the court chaplain, is in immediate charge of the bier. The Cardinal Archbishop of Milan ordered a requiem mass in all churches of his diocese.

Bressi maintained an air of the utmost cynicism. In the course of his examination he declared himself to be
a revolutionary anarchist, and said
he was ready to resume operations if
he were released.

Milan, Aug. 1.—Mme. Romela and
her son, at whose house Bressi, the assassin, stayed while here, were arrested. King Victor Emmanuel III.
arrived at Brindisi unexpectedly. The
young queen fainted when she heard
of the assassination of King Humbert.
The king and queen started for Monza
immediately after reaching Brindisi.

Rome, Aug. 1.—In the absence of
the new king the ministry issued in
his name a manifesto to the nation.

George Daniels Dead.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—George Daniels,
United States consul at Hull, under President Harrison's administration,
died here.

Pekin July 26.

THE FOREIGNERS IN DESPAIR.

At Col. Shiba Reported They Couldn't
Probably Hold Out More Than a Week
Longer—Number of Europeans Killed,
40—Transmitted by Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Adjutant
General Corbin received a dispatch from Lieutenant Colonel Coolidge, command-
ing the Ninth infantry at Tien Tsin. It
came by way of Che Foo and is as follows:

of Lieutenant Colonel Shiba, military
attache at the legation of Peking, dated
July 23, arrived Tien Tsin 25, at 9
o'clock in the evening:

"PEKIN, July 22, evening.—We are
all awaiting impatiently arrival of reinforcing army. When are you coming?
All legations have been blockaded since 18th last month, and since the 20th we
have been attacked continually night
and day by the Chinese soldiers from
more than ten encampments. By a supreme effort we are still defending.

"We are daily awaiting with the
greatest anxiety arrival of reinforcing
army and if you can't reach here in less
than a week's time it is probable that
we will be unable to hold out any longer.
Emperor and empress dowager appear
to be still at Peking. Were our reinforcements to arrive very probable that
they would flee to Wan Shoshan. Killed
and wounded up to date, eight killed,
one a captain of infantry and an am-
bassador's attache; seven seriously
wounded, the first secretary of legation
being one of 20 slightly wounded. The number of Europeans killed is 60 in all.
(Signed) "COOLIDGE."

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Tien Tsin dis-
patch said Major Waller, July 27, received a message from Conger, dated
July 21. There had been no firing since
July 16, by agreement. They had provisions for several weeks, but little ammunition. He added that if the Chinese continued to bombard as they
had done the foreigners could not hold
out long and a general massacre would
follow. He hoped relief would come soon. Conger added: "Glad to hear of the victory at Tien Tsin, but regret

CHINA DECLARED WAR.

Broke Off Negotiations With Legations
June 18 and Two Days Later Pro-
claimed Hostilities.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A special dis-
patch from Tien Tsin July 31 says:

"A Peking message, dated July 2, reports that the first outside news
reached there July 18. The failure of
the relief expedition made the siege
far more perilous. On June 19 the Tsung-Li-Yamen broke off relations.
June 20 China declared war. Baron
Von Ketteler and Francis James, an English professor, were murdered.
Over 400 non-combatants occupied the British legation. I understand converts are holding the North cathedral.
A thousand refugees occupied the palace of Prince Lu. A truce began July 17, after 26 days of fierce assault.
One night the shelling was uninterrupted for six hours. Four attempts
were made to fire the British legation.
Two attacks resulted in the ruin of Han-Lin college (the Chinese national college). The cowardice of the Chinese prevented a successful rushing.

"The total killed or died is: Germans, 10; French, 11; British, 5; Russians, 4; Americans, 7; Italians, 7;
converts, 9; total, with wounded, 98.

"The correspondents Morrison, Reid
and Temyer are ill. At least 2,000
Chinese have been killed. The Americans occupy a strong position on the
city wall. Provisions are still sufficient. The hospital arrangements
are excellent. Everybody is much exhausted by continuous work. Imperial edicts have commended the Boxers
and ordered missionaries to leave the
interior and commanded all viceroys
to help Peking, but an edict dated July 18 enjoins protection to property. The report that a large relief force was
coming produced this change. Foreign governments should beware of being hoodwinked."

DISPOSED TO NEGOTIATE.

Japan Minister So Reported as His Impression of the Attitude of Chinese, July 19.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Japanese consul at Tien Tsin telegraphed
on the 27th inst. a dispatch dated the

19th from the Japanese minister at Peking to the foreign office at Tokio,
which had reached Tien Tsin by special courier on the 25th. The minister
said:

"The Japanese marines and others
continue, under the command of the military attache, Lieutenant Colonel
Shiba, to resist the repeated attacks of Tung-Fuh-Siang's troops. I think we
can hold out, though the task is by no
means an easy one, until we are relieved by the division of Japanese
troops which, I hear through a special
messenger, will arrive at Tien Tsin by
the end of this month. The Chinese
have stopped firing since the 17th, and
the Chinese authorities are apparently disposed to open negotiations.

"Attache Kojima, Captain Ando, of
the imperial army, Mr. H. Nakamura
and five marines have been killed;
while Narabara, second secretary of
the legation, a student, and six marines have been wounded, though not
mortally. Many others have also been slightly wounded."

VICTORIA'S SON DEAD.

Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha Expired of Heart Failure—To Lie in State
in England.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Duke of Saxe-
Coburg-Gotha, the second son of Queen Victoria, died at Coburg of heart
failure.

The news of his death was communicated to the queen and the Prince of Wales. The bells of the royal chapel were tolled, and the announcement of the duke's death was
officially issued throughout the kingdom. The duke's body will be brought to England to lie in state. The young
Duke of Albany succeeds to the title.

Recently at a consultation of specialists in Vienna it was discovered that
there was a cancerous growth at the
root of the duke's tongue. At the desire
of the duchess and other members of
the family who were aware of the
nature of his disease, the duke took up
his residence at Rosenau. His royal highness was unaware of the real
state of his health and hoped he would
recover. The news of the death of the duke created a sensation in London,
as it was totally unexpected.

AND PAINTED BLUE.

Mansfield, O., Citizens Show Their Anger
Toward Dowle's Followers—Fusil-
lade of Stones.

MANSFIELD, Aug. 1.—A crowd of
about 4,000 infuriated citizens mobbed
Zion Elders A. W. McChirkin and E.
P. Fisher, of Chicago. The Zion flock,
numbering about 30, held services at
the home of a Zion member, conducted
by Elder McChirkin. Mc Seven evangelical professor of Chicago, and Elder McFarlan, of Marion. A crowd gathered and the elders barricaded the
house. Rocks were thrown through
the windows and the doors battered
down. Several members of the mob
were struck by stones hurled back by
the elders. Three were severely injured. Sheriff Pulver, the chief of police, and a police detail arrived, but
were powerless. The house was almost wrecked and the Zion elders were
struck by stones or sticks, but not seriously injured. The mob threatened
to dynamite the house. Soon the mob
forced an entrance and Fisher and Mc-Chirkin were dragged away to the harrow works, where they were stripped naked and painted from head to foot. The paint was applied first
with brushes, then buckets of paint
were poured on them. They were
then taken to the police headquarters,
where they were turned over to the
police.

The mob congregated again in front
of the jail. When Mayor Brown ordered them to disperse in the name of the
law they did so quietly and orderly.
Many women were in the mob. The following telegram was sent to Dowle
by the mob:

"Elder Fisher and his mate have
been nicely painted blue. The police were busy looking for the nickel-plated show, hence the elders were
nicely dabbed with the original ottermeren
blue. Waiting for more orders."

Saturday of September to elect delegates to a convention to be held in Havana on the first Monday in November.

JOHN C. RIDPATH DEAD

Demise of Noted Indiana His-
torian in New York.

WIFE AND SON WITH HIM.

Complication of Diseases Caused the Great
Scholar's Death—Wrote a Number of Historical Works—Once Professor at De-
pauw—Ran For Congress at One Time.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—John Clark
Ridpath, the historian, died in the Presbyterian hospital from a compli-
cation of diseases. He had been a patient in the hospital since April 26.

At the time of the historian's death
his wife and son, S. E. Ridpath, were
at the bedside. The body was later
removed from the hospital.

John Clark Ridpath, L.L.D., the his-
torian, was born in Putnam county,
Ind., in April, 1841. There was not at
that time a wagonroad within three
miles of the log cabin in which he was
born. His parents were from Christianburg, Va. His mother was a descendant of Samuel Matthews, one of
the colonial governors of Virginia.

He was graduated from Asbury (now DePauw) university in 1863, taking
first honors. After serving as principal of an academy at Thorntown, Ind.,
and as superintendent of public schools

the time being be-tridden, has been
cured by faith in prayer.

Mrs. Crump has had the double af-
liction of spinal trouble and a nervous disorder. She had been paral-yzed in portions of the body for many
years and wore a special brace for the
upper part of the body, closely
resembling a harness.

On the 27th day of April, 1899, Mrs.
Crump accepted faith healing and was
annointed. She arose from her couch,
discarded all supports, walked to the
pump in the rear of the house and
pumped unaided a pail of water, carried
the bucket into the kitchen and without
assistance prepared and cooked the next
meal for the family. She has never returned to her couch, a three months'
supply of remedies and ointments have
been sacrificed and new strength is rapidly building up the worn and emaciated
body into a condition of perfect health
and plumpness. Mrs. Crump is about 38 years of age.

Mrs. Crump was not permitted to
give her testimony before the world until a satisfactory limit of time had expired, in order that the cure might be
tested as to the prospect of its permanency. Fifteen months have now
elapsed since she arose from her couch
and discarded brace and bottle, and her
story, told at the Christian Alliance
rooms in this city, was for the first time
made public. Mrs. Crump has returned
to her home in Industry. Her statement will be sent out by the Rev. E. D.
Whitesides, director of the Alliance
rooms.

Upward Spurt in Union Pacific and Real-
izing in Sugar Caused Animation
at Close.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Some anima-
tion was given to the closing dealings
in the stock market Tuesday by the conflicting movements of prices engen-
dered by the upward spurt in Union
Pacific and the realizing in Sugar. The
break in Sugar proved the more effective in its influence, and the market
closed weak at about the low level of
the day, after having shown considerable gains in many stocks at an earlier
period. The trading was dull and continued entirely in professional hands.
The early strength was reflected to some
extent from the foreign stock market,
which showed decided relief over the
reliable tenor of the news of the safety
of the envoys in Peking. The small commitments on the bear side put out Mon-
day were closed up, helping the rise.

A number of statements of railroad
net earnings for June published over
night were factors of strength. This
was notably true of the Pennsylvania report. The stock advanced 1/2 under
this influence and the price was well
held through the later vicissitudes of
the market, affording a rather striking
contrast to the indifference with which June reports of some other railroads
were received.

Sugar fell abruptly to 120 1/2, an extreme decline of four and American
Tobacco suddenly dropped three points
in sympathy. Metropolitan showed
marked weakness, and the whole list
fell to the lowest, Union Pacific yield-
ing a fraction. There was some evidence of a speculative contest between
the friends of Union Pacific and Balti-
more and Ohio, on account of attempts
on the part of Union Pacific and bears
on Baltimore and Ohio to draw unfavorable comparisons between the price
of Union Pacific, with dividends declared at the rate of 4 per cent and Baltimore and Ohio with dividend action
yet to be taken. Brooklyn Transit continued rather active Tuesday, but the
movement was not wide and the stock
saves a fractional net gain.

There was a slightly firmer tone to
sterling exchange Tuesday, in spite of
a shading of London discount rates.
The question of gold exports this week
remains undecided, with Tuesday's conditions against the probability.

U. S. refunding 2s when issued declined 1/2 and the 3s, old 4s and 5s 1/4
at the last call Tuesday.

BADEN-POWELL AGAIN BESIEGED.

Hero of Mafeking in a Perilous Position
at Rustenburg.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Lord Roberts reported to the War Office July 31 that General Methuen marched 21 miles
and engaged the enemy, who were fighting a rear guard action. These Boers were presumably DeWet's com-
mando.

General Roberts also sent a report
concerning Baden-Powell, who was
hemmed in at Rustenburg, which was
not encouraging. He says that all the cyclist messengers Baden-Powell has
sent out have been captured.

Bishop Moore Going to China.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—Bishop David
H. Moore, who was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, with
stationary residence at Shanghai, China,
by the last general conference, delivered
his farewell address here and announced
that he would start for China Wednes-
day.

PRAYED BY HIS BODY.

Queen Marguerite Spent the Long Hours
of a Night at Dead Humbert's
Beside.

MONZA, Aug. 1.—The body of King
Humbert, dressed in black, laid on the bed ordinarily used by him. Around
the massive candelabra, holding burning tapers, at the foot and head of the
bed, are placed flowers by Queen Marguerite, who passed the long hours of
the night in prayer by the bed on
which the body lies. Father Big-
nami, the court chaplain, is in immediate charge of the bier. The Cardinal
Archbishop of Milan ordered a requiem mass in all churches of his diocese.

Bressi maintained an air of the utmost cynicism. In the course of his examination he declared himself to be
a revolutionary anarchist, and said
he was ready to resume operations if

Milan, Aug. 1.—Mme. Romela and
her son, at whose house Bressi, the assassin, stayed while here, were arrested. King Victor Emmanuel III.
arrived at Brindisi unexpectedly. The
young queen fainted when she heard
of the assassination of King Humbert.
The king and queen started for Monza
immediately after reaching Brindisi.

Rome, Aug. 1.—In the absence of
the new king the ministry issued in
his name a manifesto to the nation.

JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS.

Among the most distinguished members of congress from the state during the entire century was Joshua R. Giddings, the great anti-slavery leader, who was returned to congress eleven times by an admiring constituency, once receiving a vote of confidence, at his own request.

Joshua Reed Giddings was born in Athens, Pa., in 1795, and at eleven years of age came to Ashtabula county with his parents. In 1838 he was elected as a Whig to congress, but soon became prominent as an advocate of the right of petition and the abolition of slavery and the domestic slave trade.

In 1841 the "Creole," an American vessel, sailed from Virginia to Louisiana with a cargo of slaves, who got possession of the vessel, ran into the British port of Nassau, and, in accordance with British law, were set free; whereupon Mr. Webster, secretary of state, wrote to Edward Everett, United States minister to London, saying that the government would demand indemnification for the slaves. In consequence Mr. Giddings offered in the house a series of resolutions, in which it was declared that as slavery was an abridgment of a natural right it had no force beyond the territorial jurisdiction that created it; that when an American vessel was on the high seas it was under the jurisdiction of the general government, which did not sanction slavery, and, therefore, the mutineers of the "Creole" had only assumed their natural right to liberty, and to attempt to enslave them would be dishonorable. Although he temporarily withdrew the resolutions, the house passed a vote of censure, 125 to 69, whereupon he resigned, and, appealing to his constituents, was re-elected by an immense majority. For 21 years he held his seat in congress, opposing every encroachment of the slave power with a boldness and strength that won the fear and respect of its advocates. Whenever he spoke he was listened to with great attention, and had several affrays, in which he always triumphed. He declined re-election from ill health in 1860, and died at Montreal in 1864 and while holding the position of United States consul in Canada. His disease was atrophy of the heart. Towards the close of his congressional career he had one time, while speaking, fallen to the floor. The members gathered around, thinking he was dead. For eight minutes his heart ceased to beat. He was the author of several political works, mainly essays, bearing upon the subject of slavery.

Mr. Giddings was first elected to congress in 1838, vice Elisha Whittlesy. He entered the Twenty-fifth congress and served continuously to the end of the Thirty-fifth, March 4, 1861. He had practically the same constituency throughout. He was elected from the Sixteenth district in 1838 composed of Ashtabula, Trumbull and Geauga counties. In 1842 it became the Twentieth district, embracing Ashtabula, Geauga, Lake and Cuyahoga.

ANDREW LOOMIS.

Andrew Loomis of Columbiana county was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1836 from the Seventeenth district, Columbiana county, and resigned in 1838. The quiet pursuits of private life had greater charms for him than public office.

CHARLES D. COFFIN

Was elected successor to Andrew Loomis to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1838 and served out the vacancy caused by the latter's resignation. In 1842, after leaving congress, he went to Cincinnati to enter upon the practice of law, and was elected judge of the superior court, and incidentally became a prominent newspaper writer, and after leaving the bench followed his profession for many years. He was born in Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 10, 1804, and died in Cincinnati, Feb. 28, 1880.

MATTHIAS SHEPLAR.

Matthias Sheplar was a Democrat of local prominence in Stark county, and had distinguished himself as a state legislator, having been elected to the house in 1829, serving two years, and to the senate in 1832, serving two years. In 1836 he was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress from the Eleventh district, composed of Stark and Wayne counties. Born in Pennsylvania in 1793. Located in Stark county in early life, where he died at an advanced age.

HENRY SWEARENGEN

Represented Jefferson county in the state senate from 1829 to 1831, and was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1836 to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Kilgore from the Nineteenth district, Jefferson and Harrison counties. He was re-elected to the Twenty-sixth in 1838 from the same district. He was an attorney, and resumed the practice after leaving congress. In politics he was a Democrat. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1790, and died in Jefferson county, Ohio, at the age of 75.

JOHN B. WELLER.

John B. Weller was born in Hamilton county, Ohio, in 1812, and afterward became a resident and prominent citizen of the adjoining county of Butler. He entered congress at the age of 26, having been elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Second district—Butler, Preble and Darke counties. He was elected to the Twenty-seventh congress in 1840 from the same district, and again in 1842 was elected to the Twenty-eighth congress from the Second district, which had not been changed in the apportionment of 1842.

Before he reached his thirtieth year he was recognized as one of the leaders of the Democratic party in the state. After leaving congress he resumed the practice of the law and ranked as one of the leading advocates of the Butler county bar. He was strongly in favor of the annexation of Texas, and in the Mexican war was lieutenant colonel of the Second Ohio volunteers, and proved himself a gallant soldier.

In 1848 he was the Democratic candidate for governor against Seabury Ford of Geauga county, the Whig candidate, and the campaign was not only a remarkably bitter one, but the result was long in doubt and dispute, being the first and only disputed gubernatorial election in the state during the century.

The two houses did not meet in joint convention to canvass the vote until the 8th of January, 1849, and then a long and bitter wrangle ensued.

When the third county in its order was called, Senator Henry C. Whitman of Fairfield Democrat, raised the point of order that the speaker

the senate was not opening and publishing the returns of votes for governor, but was only opening and publishing the footings of the returns.

Senator James Myers of Lucas, Democrat, moved that the speaker appoint a select joint committee to add up the votes and report any errors and correct the same before the final result of the canvass was proclaimed.

Senator Andrew H. Byers of Wayne moved to adjourn, which motion was lost 45 to 54. Senator Barnabas Burns of Richland, Democrat, moved that the senate withdraw, which was lost 15 to 19. Representative Benjamin F. Leiter of Stark, Democrat, moved a recess until 3 p. m., which was agreed to, 52 to 41.

At 3 p. m. the opening of the abstracts was completed and the speaker of the senate appointed Backus, Whitman, Beaver and Wilson of the senate, and Leiter, Holcomb, Whitely, Morris, Chaffee, Riddle, Brewer and Bigger of the house to foot the returns and correct all errors that appeared in the abstracts.

On the 9th, this committee reported that the vote, according to the returns opened, showed that Seabury Ford had an aggregate vote of 145,816; John B. Weller had an aggregate vote of 146,105. Also that the vote of Defiance county had been omitted from the computation because the returns were not in conformity to law. Lorain was omitted for the same reason. Ten votes in Van Wert were added to the returns for Weller. In Crawford 84 votes were returned as given for "Seabury." They were not included in the aggregate for Seabury Ford. The votes cast in that part of Morrow county taken from Richland, were included.

Also that John B. Weller having received a majority of 289 votes over Seabury Ford, was duly elected governor and ought to be so declared. The report was signed by Messrs. Whitman, Wilson, Leiter, Whitely, Morris and Brewer, Democrats, one-half of the committee.

Mr. Whitman offered a resolution that a joint committee be appointed to examine the returns in the presence of the two houses. Mr. Dennis raised a point of order that the resolution was not in order, and the speaker sustained the point. Great confusion prevailed, in the midst of which the convention recessed until Jan. 10. On that day it recessed until 10 a. m., the 11th. The controversy continued until Jan. 22, when the following corrected footings were agreed to by the select joint committee of the two houses, who reported that the whole number of votes cast at the election was 297,943, of which Seabury Ford received 148,756, and John B. Weller 148,445, a plurality of 311 for Ford. There were 742 scattering votes.

In 1819 Mr. Weller was commissioned to establish the boundary line between California and Mexico. In 1852 he was elected United States senator from California, and held the office until 1857, when he was elected governor of that state. In 1860 he was appointed minister to Mexico by President Buchanan. He died in New Orleans in 1875, while he had engaged in the practice of law.

WILLIAM DOANE.

William Doane represented Clermont county in the state senate from 1833 to 1835, and was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Fifth district, comprising Clermont, Brown and Adams counties, and was re-elected from the same district to the Twenty-seventh congress in 1840. He was born in Maine in 1789, and removed to Clermont county, where he died at the age of 81.

ISAAC PARRISH.

Guernsey county was represented by Isaac Parrish in 1837 in the house of the Thirty-sixth general assembly, who, in 1838, was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress from the Eleventh district, composed of Guernsey and Belmont counties, and elected to the Twenty-ninth from the Thirteenth district in 1844, Morgan, Perry and Washington counties. He was a quiet, unobtrusive citizen, commanding the respect of all who knew him, and voluntarily retired from public life. He was a lawyer by profession, and was born about the year 1800. He died in Des Moines, Iowa, at an advanced age.

JONATHAN TAYLOR.

General Jonathan Taylor represented Licking county in the house of the Thirty-first general assembly in 1832-1833, and in the senate of the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth, in 1834-1836.

In 1838 he was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress from the Twelfth district, embracing Licking and Muskingum counties. But few men in his day commanded more fully the respect and confidence of the people in his section of the state than General Taylor. Had he chosen to remain in politics, his constituents would have re-elected him to congress during the remainder of his life. But political preferment had fewer allurments for him than the more genial pursuits of life. His public services were ungrudgingly and unselfishly performed. He was active in promoting all the local interests and public interests of his county and the state at large during his lifetime.

He was born in Connecticut in 1796, and died in Licking county in April, 1848. He served as a soldier in the war of 1812. Was a civil engineer by profession, and surveyed the boundary line between Ohio and Michigan under the direction of the government.

GEORGE SWEENEY.

George Sweeney of Crawford county was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Fourteenth district, composed of Crawford, Richland, Seneca, Sandusky and Huron, and was re-elected to the Twenty-seventh in 1840. Aside from this he took no part in the general politics of the state, but was a useful citizen in his own community, where he located early in life, and filled numerous local positions. Born in Pennsylvania in 1800, and lived to an advanced age.

LILIES.

Lilies, white lilies, ye calm my soul,
For the waters are wild and the billows roll,
And love and trust have drifted away
Like the distant sail on the breast of the bay.
In a moment more 'twill have drifted from sight
And be hidden away in the waste of night!

And then ye came with your pure, sweet gaze,
With your dainty, winsome, loving ways,
And crept like a dear dream into my heart.
I could not bear to send thee apart,
For the fragrance that floats on your balmy breath
To me whispers "peace," though the world calls
it death.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS.

Among the most distinguished members of congress from the state during the entire century was Joshua R. Giddings, the great anti-slavery leader, who was returned to congress eleven times by an admiring constituency, once receiving a vote of confidence, at his own request.

Joshua Reed Giddings was born in Athens, Pa., in 1795, and at eleven years of age came to Ashtabula county with his parents. In 1838 he was elected as a Whig to congress, but soon became prominent as an advocate of the right of petition and the abolition of slavery and the domestic slave trade.

In 1841 the "Creole," an American vessel, sailed from Virginia to Louisiana with a cargo of slaves, who got possession of the vessel, ran into the British port of Nassau, and, in accordance with British law, were set free; whereupon Mr. Webster, secretary of state, wrote to Edward Everett, United States minister to London, saying that the government would demand indemnification for the slaves. In consequence Mr. Giddings offered in the house a series of resolutions, in which it was declared that as slavery was an abridgment of a natural right it had no force beyond the territorial jurisdiction that created it; that when an American vessel was on the high seas it was under the jurisdiction of the general government, which did not sanction slavery, and, therefore, the mutineers of the "Creole" had only assumed their natural right to liberty, and to attempt to enslave them would be dishonorable. Although he temporarily withdrew the resolutions, the house passed a vote of censure, 125 to 69, whereupon he resigned, and, appealing to his constituents, was re-elected by an immense majority. For 21 years he held his seat in congress, opposing every encroachment of the slave power with a boldness and strength that won the fear and respect of its advocates. Whenever he spoke he was listened to with great attention, and had several affrays, in which he always triumphed. He declined re-election from ill health in 1860, and died at Montreal in 1864, and while holding the position of United States consul in Canada. His disease was atrophy of the heart. Towards the close of his congressional career he had one time, while speaking, fallen to the floor. The members gathered around, thinking he was dead. For eight minutes his heart ceased to beat. He was the author of several political works, mainly essays, bearing upon the subject of slavery.

Mr. Giddings was first elected to congress in 1838, vice Elisha Whittlesy, resigned. He entered the Twenty-fifth congress and served continuously to the end of the Thirty-fifth, March 4, 1861. He had practically the same constituency throughout. He was elected from the Sixteenth district in 1838, composed of Ashtabula, Trumbull and Geauga counties. In 1842 it became the Twentieth district, embracing Ashtabula, Geauga, Lake and Cuyahoga.

ANDREW LOOMIS.

Andrew Loomis of Columbiana county was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1836 from the Seventeenth district, Columbiana county, and resigned in 1838. The quiet pursuits of private life had greater charms for him than public office.

CHARLES D. COFFIN

Was elected successor to Andrew Loomis to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1838 and served out the vacancy caused by the latter's resignation. In 1842, after leaving congress, he went to Cincinnati to enter upon the practice of law, and was elected judge of the superior court, and incidentally became a prominent newspaper writer, and after leaving the bench followed his profession for many years. He was born in Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 10, 1804, and died in Cincinnati, Feb. 28, 1880.

MATTHIAS SHEPLAR.

Matthias Sheplar was a Democrat of local prominence in Stark county, and had distinguished himself as a state legislator, having been elected to the house in 1829, serving two years, and to the senate in 1832, serving two years. In 1836 he was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress from the Eleventh district, composed of Stark and Wayne counties. Born in Pennsylvania in 1793. Located in Stark county in early life, where he died at an advanced age.

REPLY TO ROOSEVELT.

Altgeld Will Do So In Toledo Tonight.

INCENSED AT ST. PAUL SPEECH.

The Committee of the Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs Commenced at Toledo—George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts Among the Visitors Present.

TOLEDO, Aug. 1.—The Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs began a two-day session at the Lyceum theater. Many notables of the party are here, among whom are Hon. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts; Judge Tarvin, of Kentucky. Ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, will speak tomorrow night, in reply to the recent speeches of Hon. Theodore Roosevelt on "Imperialism." Hon. Timothy Tarsney and S. Barkwith, of Michigan; Hon. James M. Robinson, of Indiana; Hon. H. H. McFadden, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, and Judge Allen Smalley, of Upper Sandusky; General I. R. Sherwood and many others of more or less renown.

Mayor Jones delivered one of his characteristic Golden Rule, non-partisan addresses of welcome, and was followed by Dr. Reemelin, of Cincinnati, president of the association. His subject was "A Government Function."

Dr. Reemelin says that ex-Governor Altgeld leaves a sick room to come to Toledo. Dr. Reemelin has been in correspondence with Mr. Altgeld. At first the former Illinois governor wrote Dr. Reemelin that he would not appear in Toledo because he was sick and it would not be advisable for him to come here. And now this story is told: Altgeld was in his room reading Governor Roosevelt's St. Paul speech. The deeper he got into the report the more incensed he became. Finally he got so angry that he called for a messenger boy and indited the following telegram to President Reemelin:

"Can you yet use me at Toledo in August? If so, advise me. I want to reply to Roosevelt."

REPLY TO ROOSEVELT.

Altgeld Will Do So In Toledo Tonight.

INCENSED AT ST. PAUL SPEECH.

The Committee of the Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs commenced at Toledo—George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts Among the Visitors Present.

TOLEDO, Aug. 1.—The Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs began a two-day session at the Lyceum theater. Many notables of the party are here, among whom are Hon. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts; Judge Tarvin, of Kentucky. Ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, will speak tomorrow night, in reply to the recent speeches of Hon. Theodore Roosevelt on "Imperialism." Hon. Timothy Tarsney and S. Barkwith, of Michigan; Hon. James M. Robinson, of Indiana; Hon. H. H. McFadden, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, and Judge Allen Smalley, of Upper Sandusky; General I. R. Sherwood and many others of more or less renown.

Mayor Jones delivered one of his characteristic Golden Rule, non-partisan addresses of welcome, and was followed by Dr. Reemelin, of Cincinnati, president of the association. His subject was "A Government Function."

Dr. Reemelin says that ex-Governor Altgeld leaves a sick room to come to Toledo. Dr. Reemelin has been in correspondence with Mr. Altgeld. At first the former Illinois governor wrote Dr. Reemelin that he would not appear in Toledo because he was sick and it would not be advisable for him to come here. And now this story is told: Altgeld was in his room reading Governor Roosevelt's St. Paul speech. The deeper he got into the report the more incensed he became. Finally he got so angry that he called for a messenger boy and indited the following telegram to President Reemelin:

"Can you yet use me at Toledo in August? If so, advise me. I want to reply to Roosevelt."

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 45.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1900.

TWO CENTS

IT MAY PROVE A CASE OF MURDER.

Newton Hutchinson, of This City, Assaulted John Young, of St. Clair Township, With a Piece of Fence Rail.

He Is Lying In a Very Dangerous Condition at His Home In the Country and May Die.

NO ARRESTS HAVE YET BEEN MADE

A fight occurred in St. Clair township last Friday afternoon that may result in the death of John Young, a farmer residing about six miles northwest of this city, near the Pennsylvania state line.

Young had been in town during the day and drove home late in the afternoon. He had reached the home of John Farmer, who lives on the old John Thompson farm, three miles north of this city, and had stopped to talk to Farmer, who is a relative. Farmer was hauling hay and had a load standing near the gate at which Young had stopped. Young remarked that Farmer had some of his folks over at his place, meaning his daughter, Miss Mollie Young, who had been stopping at Farmer's for several weeks. The story as to what followed is best told in Mr. Farmer's words. He was seen this morning by a News Review man at his home and said:

"Young didn't seem to be under the influence of liquor at the time, though he had some with him and offered me a drink, which I accepted more to accommodate him than anything else, as he insisted. He told me if that man Hutchinson had been fooling around the girl, and I was waiting for an answer said if Hutchinson ever crossed his path he would kill the ———"

"Newton Hutchinson sat on the back of hay, with a broad rimmed hat pulled down over his eyes. It was for this reason probably that he was not recognized by Young, who knew him well. At the last Young Newt crawled down on the opposite side of the load from where he stood, and when he appeared he held in his hand a portion of a fence rail about 20 inches in length and as thick as a man's arm. Without saying a word he assaulted Young, hitting him several blows across the top of the head with the club, and then the two rolled, rolling over and over until they reached a ditch and I lost sight of them for a time. I don't know what I could have been thinking of to permit the thing to go so far, but as soon as I could I gathered the hay from the ditch and conducted him to the buggy, which stood just outside the road. Hutchinson, in the meantime, had gone to the house. Young was in a terrible plight, having several wounds on the head and his face was beaten to a pulp and covered with blood. I was so excited I scarcely knew what I was doing, and leading him to the buggy he managed as best he could and drove off. Hutchinson has been stopping at my house for some time, and works, but I never hired him and don't know why he stays unless it be on account of the girl. Am very sorry the thing happened and realize I should have prevented it at the beginning."

Soon after leaving Farmer's place Young lost consciousness and it was in this condition that he was found by William Grim on the road near the bridge. He was taken to his home a short distance away. Medical attention was summoned and the man was as comfortable as possible. He was pronounced in a very bad way, and in a dangerous condition ever since, and may die from the effects of the injuries to his skull, which is fractured.

Hutchinson is still at the Farmer's home and is apparently unconcerned about the outcome of the case, and when seen today said he had not assaulted the man without provocation. Young had called him all the vile names he could think of. Hutchinson claims to have used nothing but his fists in the assault, and that Young had struck the first blow, so it was really a matter of self defense.

It seems that the whole trouble arose over the daughter, Miss Mollie Young, who had worked in this city as a domestic for about 10 months, having come here last fall and worked in various places, the last one being at Hutchinson's in East End, where she was at the time they closed out their saloon business and left the city. The girl then went home and Newt Hutchinson came there to see her. Being forbidden by the father to continue his visits Hutchinson persuaded the girl to go to Farmer's place, where she now is.

Mrs. Samuel Douglass has taken a hand in the law suit business herself and has entered suit in the court of Squire McLane against her husband, Samuel Douglass, charging him with disorderly conduct. SELSEY FELL UNDER A CAR

Which He Had Started With a Pinch Bar at the Laughlin No. 1 Plant

THE CAR STARTED TOO FAST

And His Foot Slipped When He Attempted to Board It and Set the Brake.

HE IS VERY BADLY USED UP

Jed Selsler, an employe of the Laughlin No. 1 pottery, met with an accident yesterday that may cause him to lose a leg.

Selsler comes from Racine, O., and yesterday morning secured employment at the Laughlin pottery as a laborer. He was busily engaged yesterday afternoon in unloading a car of clay, but in order to get the car down even with the clay bin it was necessary to run a car ahead of it down on the switch. He started the car with a pinch bar, but it began running too fast and in order to prevent it from running on the main track he ran to the front end for the purpose of boarding it and setting the brake. He missed his footing and fell under the car.

He was picked up and taken in the patrol to the office of Dr. Hobbs and Dr. James Taylor. His foot was very badly mashed and his leg was broken above the knee and it may have to be amputated. After he had been cared for he was taken to the home of Mrs. Coulson, Franklin street.

Last night Sarah Green, a 6-year-old child, was sent by her mother to the home of her aunt, who resides in Accommodation alley. The child had completed her errand and was returning home when two boys caught her at the ice plant and shoved her into a pile of red hot cinders. Her feet were very badly burned and Dr. W. R. Clark attended to her injuries.

He secured a job as deck hand on a tow boat and started out, but fell off the boat between East End and Industry, the boat passing over him.

The father of the unfortunate man arrived in this city this morning, and from a description given identified the floater as his son.

The body was lifted and taken to Pittsburg this afternoon.

NEXT WEEK

HORRORS OF THE INDIA FAMINE

Read the Pen Pictures of the Awful Suffering of Human Beings.

LOUIS KLOPSCH TELLS A STORY

That Is Unparalleled In Its Vivid Delineation of Misery and Death.

AND NOW DO YOUR PART

Famine in India! How I dread to write about it! What pen can adequately portray the scenes which my eyes have witnessed? Scenes of desolation, of pain, of suffering, of hopeless despair, of heart anguish, of death! Linger, agonizing, torturous, terrible! An indescribable death, coming on gradually; slowly, but surely tightening its grip, until its victim, consciously helpless, the eyes abnormally distended and unnaturally lustrous, sinks down overcome with dread apprehension. Then a feeble but fruitless effort to rise again, a protracted, spasmodic gurgle, an occasional revivification; a final prolongation, appealing, anxious, despairing look, the death rattle, and all is over. Then the funeral! If the undertaker be a jackal or a vulture, it may possibly be imagined, but it should never be described. Otherwise, the body is burned, and its ashes fertilize the sun-baked, kiln-dried, sterile ground.

I had fully expected to witness great distress, intense suffering, yes, even death. I realized my own feebleness in the face of so great a calamity. I had nerved myself for the mission in hand; yet, I was in nowise prepared for the dreadful, shocking state of affairs I was called upon to encounter. On the Red sea and the Indian ocean, while sweltering in a range of temperature and a degree of humidity to which I was wholly unaccustomed, fellow passengers had endeavored to convey to my mind some idea of the sad, heart-rending scenes one is apt to meet with in the famine territory; but had I the power to intensify a thousand times all I heard, when face to face with the dreaded reality, I should have felt even then that "the half had never been told."

One-half of India today is a great charnel-house in which countless thousands have already perished of cholera, plague, dysentery and starvation, and as many more are doomed to a like fate. How to describe it, so as bring it within the grasp of the human mind, I know not. Twenty thousand cases of cholera weekly, with a 75 per cent mortality, representing 15,000 deaths every seven days; plague on every hand; dysentery mowing down its victims right and left, and starvation staring millions boldly and defiantly in the face, reaping a harvest unprecedented—this tells the horrible story about as accurately as a brief prose summary of Milton's Paradise Lost would convey a sense of its poetic sublimity. The skeleton may be there, but the soul is wanting.

As Mr. Willets, my traveling companion in India, has undertaken to supply a general narrative of the trip, I will confine myself to a recital of some of the most striking incidents, without regard to chronological order.

But before I begin permit me to express my heartfelt gratitude to my Heavenly Father for having brought me safely through dangers by land and sea, as well as by infection and contagion, and to thank the many readers of the Christian Herald for their earnest prayers in my behalf. My physical welfare was beset with dangers on every hand, yet out of them all I have been permitted to return to my family better fitted for the duties and responsibilities of life than in many a year.

Bombay's Army of Beggars.

On the day of our arrival the streets of Bombay were literally alive with walking skeletons. Every step of the way we were beset and besieged by men, women and children in the last stages of destitution, piteously begging for a mite that they might eat and live. They prostrated themselves before us, calling upon us as the "Protectors of the poor, our Father and Mother, our king and our God," to save them from starvation.

They lifted up their hands in earnest supplication, and uttered their petitions while vigorously slapping their naked, hollow stomachs to indicate that for a long time they had had nothing to eat.

They held out their hands with a beseeching look, hoping that we might drop a coin that would purchase at least enough food to satisfy their hunger just for an hour. Gaunt men, emaciated women with parched bosoms nursing shriveled, diminutive, hollow-eyed, sickly babies; children with legs and arms like clothes-pins, every rib plainly visible, all ran toward us and after us, completely surrounding the carriage and entreating us every step of the way.

I was tempted to give them all I had, but Rev. Mr. Frease, who accompanied me, begged me not to do it, fearing if we gave to some that the rest would become frantic and endanger our safety. "Where do these unfortunate people come from?" I asked. "They come from the villages in families and groups to the larger cities, hoping there to be able to beg enough to keep them alive," was the reply. "How many of them are there in Bombay?" "Tens of thousands," responded my companion. "The municipality sent 7,000 by rail to the Relief Camp at Thana, 25 miles away, the other day, but 6,000 left in one night and returned to the city, walking the entire distance."

Streets Littered With Destitute Sleepers.

All along the drive of over two miles between our hotel and the Marathi mission, doorways, stoops and curbstones were occupied by these helpless unfortunates, many of them more than three-fourths naked and all of them miserably clad. The most persistent in their entreaties were the nursing mothers, and nearly every other woman belonged to that class, and the saddest sight of all were the poor child mothers, themselves in need of maternal attention, hugging their emaciated, hollow-templed and sunken-eyed babies with an intensity of affection that almost broke our hearts to witness—particularly in view of our own utter helplessness to relieve their distress.

Houseless and homeless, these un-

elsewhere.

As in the city, so along the country roads of the famine district, there are constant streams of grim, gaunt, hungry, despairing people, bound from the villages for the relief stations; for the famine code requires the starving to break up their homes and travel from 15 to 20 miles, yes, some times over 30 miles, in order to obtain relief. Hence, no wonder that along the sun-baked, kiln-dried roads of famine-stricken India, dead bodies have strewn the way and sickened the hearts of our missionaries, and that when certain death stares these wanderers in the face they, as a last resort, offer their children for sale at a few annas each, in the hope that such a course will ensure the lives of the little ones and enable their parents to journey further on, with a prospect of getting to where relief awaits them!

REV. S. W. M'CLURE WAS SUSPENDED

Against Him of Imprudent and Unministerial Conduct and Prevarication.

CASE GOES TO CONFERENCE

Rev. S. W. McClure, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Toronto, yesterday was suspended for imprudent and unministerial conduct and for prevarication.

The committee which investigated his case consisted of the following ministers:

Dr. Holmes, presiding elder, and Dr. J. S. Reager, of Steubenville; Rev. L. H. Stewart, Cleveland; Rev. J. S. Hollingshead, New Athens; Dr. Clark Crawford, of this city; Rev. J. T. Morton, Martin's Ferry; Rev. James Walls, Salineville, and Rev. Earl D. Holtz, Wellsville; S. P. Lloyd, East Springfield, and Dr. H. S. Jackson, Warren.

The charges against Rev. McClure were sustained by the committee and his suspension will last until the coming session of the East Ohio conference, which meets in Youngstown in September, when the case will be taken up and officially investigated.

Rev. McClure has been pastor of the Toronto church for two years, going there from Salineville.

TO THE POOR.

Yes, to the Poor Sufferers of India He Sends His Check.

The News Review was the recipient this morning of a snug little check, with instructions to send the same to the India famine sufferers and not to make the name of the contributor known. Ah, well, the Master has placed the name on His book of records. "Whoso giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." "Even as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my little ones, ye did it unto me." "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

We have good reasons for believing that the present contributor is a cheerful giver. God grant that many may pattern after him, and that right speedily, as the horrors of India at the present time are simply indescribable.

A man who came here from Sebring, O., Saturday, and who claimed he had business with a man who was at a Smith's family house in the north end, was chased out of that end of town by a crowd of angry people. The north enders are a little slow, but they wouldn't stand that, and a gang got together and ran the fellow out. The police were called, but all was quiet.

DENOUNCED THE MURDER.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Aug. 1.—Caleb Powers, on trial for complicity in the murder of Goebel, continued his description of his actions on the day of the tragedy. Powers denied that when in company with Walter Day, John L. Powers and Wharton Golder, leaving Frankfort that morning there was anything said about suspicion. He said: "While we were on our way to Louisville we heard that Goebel had been shot from the second or third story of the executive building, and when I heard it I said it was a shame and outrage. It has just ruined our chances in the contest. We might as well go home. We reached Louisville and went to the Winfield hotel, where a conference was held. The object of our visit to Louisville had been frustrated by the shooting, and of course we abandoned bringing a second crowd to Frankfort, as we had intended."

The witness then detailed his return from Louisville, saying he felt that in the official position which he held he should be back in Frankfort, although he would have liked to remain in Louisville. Powers continued: "At our first meeting in Frankfort, of which Colton was chairman, when we discussed bringing witnesses, Sheriff Burton, of Breckenridge county, made a very violent speech, and I tried to stop him, and at the close of his talk he pulled a cartridge from his pocket and said that one of those exploded in the proper way would settle the contest. After he had made his speech I addressed the meeting and told them that although I had more at stake than any of them I would resign my office if anything of that kind was attempted."

"I held a conference after the tragedy with my assistant, J. B. Matthews, and George Hemphill, and told them that I wanted a complete investigation, and that I did not want to go through life with any suspicion attached to me. Then I went to Governor Bradley and Judge Yost and laid what information I had before them. I consulted them as to whether I should go to Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin with the information, and they advised against it."

In regard to a conversation which Golden claimed he had with Powers on this subject Powers said: "Never a word of it was spoken and I can explain how Golden got onto the fact that I had a conference with Yost and Bradley," but this was promptly overruled by the court. The witness then told of his daily doings up to the night of March 9, when he heard of Colton's arrest and a warrant being out for him.

THE BOYCOTTER.

He is a close relation of the anarchist and the assassin. As a rule, the boycotter is a coward and a poltroon. Respectfully referred to any one whom the shoe fits, and especially to the creatures who have lately been threatening to boycott business and professional men in East Liverpool.

CITY POLICE.

The idea of the average citizen is that the policeman is a guardian of the peace, a welcome sight on a dark night, amid danger and dread, to the law abiding and law observing citizen, and a dread to the law breaker, thug, gambler, thief and illegal liquor seller. When he fails to fill this bill he fails to be a peace guardian and an efficient officer, and he should make room for a better man.

ON TO PEKING.

The allied armies are concentrating for an advance on Peking. The United States, in common with the other great powers, seems to have awakened to the fact that the Chinese leaders and diplomats have been trifling in order to gain time. It now looks as if earnest work is intended. The eyes of the whole civilized world are fastened upon Peking, and the fate of the legations at that point is indeed a hard one. God grant them safe deliverance.

CIGARETTES.

And now the leading railroads of the country have commenced to bar the deadly, dangerous cigarette. The companies will permit their employees to smoke either cigars or pipes, but draw the line on the baneful, brain and body destroying cigarette. Pity that the government will not forbid the manufacture or sale. Cigarette fiends will soon find that employers of workmen all over the land have no use for their services. Whisky and beer guzzlers will soon share the same fate. Speed the day.

POLITICAL.

Take your choice of this situation: McKinley and prosperity. Sound currency and solid credit throughout the civilized world. Workshops hustling and workmen happy. A continuation of the present unparalleled good times. Bryan and disaster. Business unsettled. An unsound and unsafe currency. Credit impaired or destroyed throughout the civilized world. Workshops idle and workmen miserable. An era of distrust, business depression and poverty.

Workingmen, take your choice.

ANARCHY.

The anarchist and the assassin, in common with all backers, aiders and abettors of the miserable cowards, should be banished from the United States, now and forever; and there should be some law to punish men and women who dare to jubilate and celebrate, in this land of freedom, the assassination or murder of any one, high or low, rich or poor. Such measures are hateful to our people, born and bred in this country, and our laws should banish from our shores all creatures like unto those jubilators

at Paterson, N. J., and force them to return to the lands which they have cursed in former days. We have no use for such scum.

READ IT.

Don't dare to miss it. Turn to the article headed "Horrors of the India Famine," appearing on our first page of today's issue, and read the personal experience of Louis Klopsch while in India. The story is one which will surely appeal to the heart and pocket book of every man and woman who loves God and humanity. In the name of that charity which "covers a multitude of sins," we appeal to our readers, residents of this prosperous city of East Liverpool, to add their mite to the fund which is being raised to aid this starving, suffering, dying people. God will surely reward you if you aid your brothers and sisters in this awful time of need. Money will be forwarded to New York as soon as received at this office, and will at once be forwarded from that point to India by telegraph, giving almost instantaneous relief and possibly saving many human lives. Act at once.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The News Review is published in the interest of the people of this city, and the people have a right to be heard through its columns. The purpose is to champion all good and true business measures that will be conducive of the greatest good to the greatest mass, and to condemn every measure which will retard our prosperity and progress. All trickery and chicanery against the people and the taxpayers will be fully and fearlessly exposed when backed by full and explicit proof. There are some very ugly rumors afloat at present respecting persons who are said to be guilty of malfeasance in office, and this paper has been urged to go after the offenders; but the proof furnished the manager has not been sufficient to warrant him in so doing. Watch for developments. No individual or body of individuals have the right to use an office, the gift of the people, for their own personal aggrandizement at the expense of the people. Skulduggery and trickery may win for a time; but these foul practices are sure to be exposed, and the exposure always hits very hard, and when least expected.

BENDHEIM'S.

night was a disgrace to the city of East Liverpool and her citizens, and it is a shame that Marshal Thompson and his roundsmen did not put a stop to it and land the principals and every one connected therewith in the city lockup. These men were known to the officers, and it was also known that they were about to engage in a prize fight. We have it from reliable authority that the boat was moored to one of the piers of the bridge and that the spectators could step from the Ohio shore upon a coal boat or barge and from there to the boat upon which the brutal fight was being waged. Further, we have it from a trustworthy source that the language made use of was simply horrible in its profanity and vulgarity, and could be plainly heard from Second street. Thugs and plug uglies have evidently been led to believe that, in consequence of the disgrace put upon our city on Saturday, July 21, they can do as they please in this neighborhood. Fellow citizens, it rests with you to declare that such foul and disgraceful work shall not control, and you have the right to demand that our city marshal shall enforce the law. If he cannot control and conquer the element which ruled on Monday night, let him so declare, and conservative and law abiding citizens will invoke the aid of the state officials.

DOUGLASS CASE WAS DISMISSED

He Didn't Succeed In Proving
That His Wife Assaulted
Him.

NONE OF THE WITNESSES

Saw the Defendant Strike Her Husband or Knock a Cigar
From His Mouth.

THE WIFE TOLD HER STORY

The assault and battery case of Samuel Douglass against his wife, Marietta Douglass, was tried in the court of Justice McCarron yesterday afternoon, and a decision was rendered at 4:45.

The parties to the suit have conducted a restaurant on lower Broadway for some time and have become celebrated in the past for the frequency and publicity of their domestic troubles.

Douglass had retained J. E. McDonald to look after his end of the case, while Mrs. Douglass, not being aware of the attorneys' vacation and supposing she could have a man on the spot at a moment's notice, had neglected that part of the matter until she arrived at the office of the justice. The result was that considerable delay was occasioned, but E. W. Hill was finally prevailed upon to accept her case, and the witnesses all being present the suit was proceeded with.

Mr. Douglass was sworn and testified in his own behalf. Witness said he lived on Broadway; been a resident of East Liverpool for about 10 years, and had lived in various places in town; now resided in property of Freddy Wilson, which was rented by him, he paying the rent and assuming all responsibility. Attorney Hill objected to these questions on the ground that they had nothing to do with the case of assault and battery which they were here to try. Plaintiff was instructed to confine himself more closely to the case, and proceeded by stating that upon the 24th day of July, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, his wife did strike him in the eye. Being asked to tell the story just as it occurred, he said he was sitting in front of their place of business when A. C. Rowe came along and wanted some tobies. Douglass entered the store and proceeded to wait upon the customer, when his wife came from somewhere in the rear of the store and told Mr. Rowe to give her the money, as she was responsible for the bills and would have them to pay. She did not get it, however, as the purchase had already been paid for and he had the money in his pocket. In the meantime Douglass had taken a cigar from the box and proceeded to light it, whereupon his wife had remonstrated, accusing him of smoking up all the profits. She became very angry and hit him a "clout in the eye," which also knocked the cigar from his mouth. He never said a word, but went outside, remarking that she was a pretty good hitter. Witness said the whole affair was caused by some woman who wanted to board with the family, to which he objected. He attempted to throw the woman's outfit into the street, but his step-daughter sat on the trunk and laughed at him. His mother-in-law had told him his wife and her daughter would throw him out, and now he believed it. In fact his wife had on more than one occasion threatened to throw him out. He testified that within the last two weeks he had contributed $21 to the support of the family and thought he was surely entitled to some privileges.

On cross-examination Douglass said he had been working that day, but had probably one drink before returning home; he was not so drunk as to be quarrelsome. He told Mr. Hill his wife "hailed off and gave him a clout in the eye." Witness said his wife went back into the house after this, and he, thinking she was after the poker, went outside.

Attorney McDonald took the witness again and in answer to a question he stated that the blow was a vicious one; he did not remember whether his wife had said any cuss words—she swore so much he would not like to say whether she swore on that occasion or not.

Mr. Rowe was then sworn. He said he was foreman at Thompson's pottery; was acquainted with the parties, and was there at the time the altercation took place. He remembered of buying the tobies and that Douglass had put the money into his pocket. Mrs. Douglass told him to pay her after this and he said he would. She had said she did not propose to pay the bills and let Douglass take the money for booze. He did not see Mrs. Douglass strike her husband and didn't see him strike at her. She didn't seem to be in a bad humor. He had been asked to patronize the store by Sam and he did it because it was handy. He didn't hear Mrs. Douglass say "get out, you dog." At this point Attorney McDonald attempted to show that Rowe was an unwilling witness and didn't believe he was telling all he knew. Witness said he objected to telling the same story over again, but was ordered by the court to repeat it as many times as the attorneys might wish. He had bought tobies there three or four times a day, but never bought any "booze." Hill objected to the question and stated it had no bearing on the case whatever, as murder could be committed in the kitchen of the same house and not have anything to do with the assault and battery case now being tried. Witness had eaten two meals in the place, one on Sunday two weeks ago and one last Sunday, on both of which occasions he had some beer, but not at the table; he had drank it with Sam outside.

The court asked witness if, at the time the cigars were bought, he had seen the cigar knocked from plaintiff's mouth. He said he did not, but Douglass had came out of the store and said he "believed she hit him."

Mrs. Douglass and Marian Martin were sworn for the defense and Mr. Martin was put on the stand. He said he had been boarding at the house for two weeks, during the absence of his family; was in front of the store at the time the trouble occurred. In answer to questions by Mr. Hill witness said he was on the side of the door opposite the cigar case and about 12 feet from it, and could readily hear anything that was said inside. Some delay was here caused by the attorneys as to the nature of the testimony being given by Mr. Martin. When he again resumed he stated he had heard Mrs. Douglass say, "Don't you dare hit me." He did not hear any scuffle or other indication of trouble inside. To the court the witness said he had not seen a blow struck, nor a cigar knocked from anyone's mouth.

On cross-examination by McDonald witness said a blow might have been struck, but he didn't hear it.

Mrs. Douglass was then examined. She was working in the rear of the house; heard the door open and shut and when she came out she saw Sam waiting on the customer. She told Rowe to pay her hereafter. Sam said for her to go about her business and not bother him. She said she wouldn't do it, and told him he was drunk, and she didn't propose to have him around.

In beginning the cross-examination of the witness Attorney McDonald used the word "seance" in connection with the trouble leading up to the alleged assault, to which Hill objected, fearing his client would not understand, urging the attorney for the plaintiff to use better English. The tilt would probably have gone on for hours had not the court been of the opinion that much valuable time was being wasted and so expressed himself, at which the trial was proceeded with.

Mrs. Douglass told McDonald on cross-examination that she had told the men not to pay Sam any money; had accused him of smoking up all the profits, but she didn't "swipe" at the cigar or "clout" him in the eye; she was very angry, however, and was mad enough to hit him had he attempted to strike her first. Being asked the question witness stated Sam was her husband, but she was ashamed to own him as such. Asked what he ought to think of her, she said he should be proud to have such a wife.

The attorneys spent a short time in arguments and the justice was of the opinion that there had been no assault and dismissed the case.

Although the case was a trivial one and should never have found its way into court, it will be remembered by at least one of the participants, as it was E. W. Hill's maiden effort, and the fact that he won his case will make it especially important to him.

THE BOYCOTTER.

He is a close relation of the anarchist and the assassin. As a rule, the boycotter is a coward and a poltroon. Respectfully referred to any one whom the shoe fits, and especially to the creatures who have lately been threatening to boycott business and professional men in East Liverpool.

CITY POLICE.

The idea of the average citizen is that the policeman is a guardian of the peace, a welcome sight on a dark night, amid danger and dread, to the law abiding and law observing citizen, and a dread to the law breaker, thug, gambler, thief and illegal liquor seller. When he fails to fill this bill he fails to be a peace guardian and an efficient officer, and he should make room for a better man.

ON TO PEKING.

The allied armies are concentrating for an advance on Peking. The United States, in common with the other great powers, seems to have awakened to the fact that the Chinese leaders and diplomats have been trifling in order to gain time. It now looks as if earnest work is intended. The eyes of the whole civilized world are fastened upon Peking, and the fate of the legations at that point is indeed a hard one. God grant them safe deliverance.

CIGARETTES.

And now the leading railroads of the country have commenced to bar the deadly, dangerous cigarette. The companies will permit their employees to smoke either cigars or pipes, but draw the line on the baneful, brain and body destroying cigarette. Pity that the government will not forbid the manufacture or sale. Cigarette fiends will soon find that employers of workmen all over the land have no use for their services. Whisky and beer guzzlers will soon share the same fate. Speed the day.

POLITICAL.

Take your choice of this situation: McKinley and prosperity. Sound currency and solid credit throughout the civilized world. Workshops hustling and workmen happy. A continuation of the present unparalleled good times. Bryan and disaster. Business unsettled. An unsound and unsafe currency. Credit impaired or destroyed throughout the civilized world. Workshops idle and workmen miserable. An era of distrust, business depression and poverty.

Workingmen, take your choice.

ANARCHY.

The anarchist and the assassin, in common with all backers, aiders and abettors of the miserable cowards, should be banished from the United States, now and forever; and there should be some law to punish men and women who dare to jubilate and celebrate, in this land of freedom, the assassination or murder of any one, high or low, rich or poor. Such measures are hateful to our people, born and bred in this country, and our laws should banish from our shores all creatures like unto those jubilators

at Paterson, N. J., and force them to return to the lands which they have cursed in former days. We have no use for such scum.

READ IT.

Don't dare to miss it. Turn to the article headed "Horrors of the India Famine," appearing on our first page of today's issue, and read the personal experience of Louis Klopsch while in India. The story is one which will surely appeal to the heart and pocket book of every man and woman who loves God and humanity. In the name of that charity which "covers a multitude of sins," we appeal to our readers, residents of this prosperous city of East Liverpool, to add their mite to the fund which is being raised to aid this starving, suffering, dying people. God will surely reward you if you aid your brothers and sisters in this awful time of need. Money will be forwarded to New York as soon as received at this office, and will at once be forwarded from that point to India by telegraph, giving almost instantaneous relief and possibly saving many human lives. Act at once.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The News Review is published in the interest of the people of this city, and the people have a right to be heard through its columns. The purpose is to champion all good and true business measures that will be conducive of the greatest good to the greatest mass, and to condemn every measure which will retard our prosperity and progress. All trickery and chicanery against the people and the taxpayers will be fully and fearlessly exposed when backed by full and explicit proof. There are some very ugly rumors afloat at present respecting persons who are said to be guilty of malfeasance in office, and this paper has been urged to go after the offenders; but the proof furnished the manager has not been sufficient to warrant him in so doing. Watch for developments. No individual or body of individuals have the right to use an office, the gift of the people, for their own personal aggrandizement at the expense of the people. Skulduggery and trickery may win for a time; but these foul practices are sure to be exposed, and the exposure always hits very hard, and when least expected.

DOUGLASS CASE WAS DISMISSED

He Didn't Succeed In Proving
That His Wife Assaulted
Him.

Saw the Defendant Strike Her Husband or Knock a Cigar
From His Mouth.

THE WIFE TOLD HER STORY

The assault and battery case of Samuel Douglass against his wife, Marietta Douglass, was tried in the court of Justice McCarron yesterday afternoon, and a decision was rendered at 4:45.

The parties to the suit have conducted a restaurant on lower Broadway for some time and have become celebrated in the past for the frequency and publicity of their domestic troubles.

Douglass had retained J. E. McDonald to look after his end of the case, while Mrs. Douglass, not being aware of the attorneys' vacation and supposing she could have a man on the spot at a moment's notice, had neglected that part of the matter until she arrived at the office of the justice. The result was that considerable delay was occasioned, but E. W. Hill was finally prevailed upon to accept her case, and the witnesses all being present the suit was proceeded with.

Mr. Douglass was sworn and testified in his own behalf. Witness said he lived on Broadway; been a resident of East Liverpool for about 10 years, and had lived in various places in town; now resided in property of Freddy Wilson, which was rented by him, he paying the rent and assuming all responsibility. Attorney Hill objected to these questions on the ground that they had nothing to do with the case of assault and battery which they were here to try. Plaintiff was instructed to confine himself more closely to the case, and proceeded by stating that upon the 24th day of July, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, his wife did strike him in the eye. Being asked to tell the story just as it occurred, he said he was sitting in front of their place of business when A. C. Rowe came along and wanted some tobies. Douglass entered the store and proceeded to wait upon the customer, when his wife came from somewhere in the rear of the store and told Mr. Rowe to give her the money, as she was responsible for the bills and would have them to pay. She did not get it, however, as the purchase had already been paid for and he had the money in his pocket. In the meantime Douglass had taken a cigar from the box and proceeded to light it, whereupon his wife had remonstrated, accusing him of smoking up all the profits. She became very angry and hit him a "clout in the eye," which also knocked the cigar from his mouth. He never said a word, but went outside, remarking that she was a pretty good hitter. Witness said the whole affair was caused by some woman who wanted to board with the family, to which he objected. He attempted to throw the woman's outfit into the street, but his step-daughter sat on the trunk and laughed at him. His mother-in-law had told him his wife and her daughter would throw him out, and now he believed it. In fact his wife had on more than one occasion threatened to throw him out. He testified that within the last two weeks he had contributed $21 to the support of the family and thought he was surely entitled to some privileges.

On cross-examination Douglass said he had been working that day, but had probably one drink before returning home; he was not so drunk as to be quarrelsome. He told Mr. Hill his wife "hailed off and gave him a clout in the eye." Witness said his wife went back into the house after this, and he, thinking she was after the poker, went outside.

Attorney McDonald took the witness again and in answer to a question he stated that the blow was a vicious one; he did not remember whether his wife had said any cuss words—she swore so much he would not like to say whether she swore on that occasion or not.

Mr. Rowe was then sworn. He said he was foreman at Thompson's pottery; was acquainted with the parties, and was there at the time the altercation took place. He remembered of buying the tobies and that Douglass had put the money into his pocket. Mrs. Douglass told him to pay her after this and he said he would. She had said she did not propose to pay the bills and let Douglass take the money for booze. He did not see Mrs. Douglass strike her husband and didn't see him strike at her. She didn't seem to be in a bad humor. He had been asked to patronize the store by Sam and he did it because it was handy. He didn't hear Mrs. Douglass say "get out, you dog." At this point Attorney McDonald attempted to show that Rowe was an unwilling witness and didn't believe he was telling all he knew. Witness said he objected to telling the same story over again, but was ordered by the court to repeat it as many times as the attorneys might wish. He had bought tobies there three or four times a day, but never bought any "booze." Hill objected to the question and stated it had no bearing on the case whatever, as murder could be committed in the kitchen of the same house and not have anything to do with the assault and battery case now being tried. Witness had eaten two meals in the place, one on Sunday two weeks ago and one last Sunday, on both of which occasions he had some beer, but not at the table; he had drank it with Sam outside.

The court asked witness if, at the time the cigars were bought, he had seen the cigar knocked from plaintiff's mouth. He said he did not, but Douglass had come out of the store and said he "believed she hit him."

Mrs. Douglass and Marian Martin were sworn for the defense and Mr. Martin was put on the stand. He said he had been boarding at the house for two weeks, during the absence of his family; was in front of the store at the time the trouble occurred. In answer to questions by Mr. Hill witness said he was on the side of the door opposite the cigar case and about 12 feet from it, and could readily hear anything that was said inside. Some delay was here caused by the attorneys as to the nature of the testimony being given by Mr. Martin. When he again resumed he stated he had heard Mrs. Douglass say, "Don't you dare hit me." He did not hear any scuffle or other indication of trouble inside. To the court the witness said he had not seen a blow struck, nor a cigar knocked from anyone's mouth.

On cross-examination by McDonald witness said a blow might have been struck, but he didn't hear it.

Mrs. Douglass was then examined. She was working in the rear of the house; heard the door open and shut and when she came out she saw Sam waiting on the customer. She told Rowe to pay her hereafter. Sam said for her to go about her business and not bother him. She said she wouldn't do it, and told him he was drunk, and she didn't propose to have him around.

In beginning the cross-examination of the witness Attorney McDonald used the word "seance" in connection with the trouble leading up to the alleged assault, to which Hill objected, fearing his client would not understand, urging the attorney for the plaintiff to use better English. The tilt would probably have gone on for hours had not the court been of the opinion that much valuable time was being wasted and so expressed himself, at which the trial was proceeded with.

Mrs. Douglass told McDonald on cross-examination that she had told the men not to pay Sam any money; had accused him of smoking up all the profits, but she didn't "swipe" at the cigar or "clout" him in the eye; she was very angry, however, and was mad enough to hit him had he attempted to strike her first. Being asked the question witness stated Sam was her husband, but she was ashamed to own him as such. Asked what he ought to think of her, she said he should be proud to have such a wife.

The attorneys spent a short time in arguments and the justice was of the opinion that there had been no assault and dismissed the case.

Although the case was a trivial one and should never have found its way into court, it will be remembered by at least one of the participants, as it was E. W. Hill's maiden effort, and the fact that he won his case will make it especially important to him.

THE ATTACK RENEWED

Chinese Resumed Fighting In Peking July 20.

THE FOREIGNERS IN DESPAIR.

LT. COL. SHIBA REPORTED THEY COULDN'T PROBABLY HOLD OUT MORE THAN A WEEK LONGER—NUMBER OF EUROPEANS KILLED, 40—TRANSMITTED BY COOLIDGE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Adjutant General Corbin received a dispatch from Lieutenant Colonel Coolidge, commanding the Ninth infantry at Tien Tsin. It came by way of Che Foo and is as follows:

"TIEN TSIN, 27.—Following letter of Lieutenant Colonel Shiba, military attaché at the legation of Peking, dated July 23, arrived Tien Tsin 25, at 9 o'clock in the evening:

"PEKIN, July 22, evening.—We are all awaiting impatiently arrival of reinforcing army. When are you coming? All legations have been blockaded since 13th last month, and since the 20th we have been attacked continually night and day by the Chinese soldiers from more than ten encampments. By a supreme effort we are still defending.

"We are daily awaiting with the greatest anxiety arrival of reinforcing army and if you can't reach here in less than a week's time it is probable that we will be unable to hold out any longer. Emperor and empress dowager appear to be still at Peking. Were our reinforcements to arrive very probable that they would flee to Wan Shoshan. Killed and wounded up to date, eight killed, one a captain of infantry and an ambassador's attaché; seven seriously wounded, the first secretary of legation being one of 20 slightly wounded. The number of Europeans killed is 60 in all. (Signed) "COOLIDGE."

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Tien Tsin dispatch said Major Waller, July 27, received a message from Conger, dated July 21. There had been no firing since July 16, by agreement. They had provisions for several weeks, but little ammunition. He added that if the Chinese continued to bombard as they had done the foreigners could not hold out long and a general massacre would follow. He hoped relief would come soon. Conger added: "Glad to hear of the victory at Tien Tsin, but regret terrible cost. All are safe and well."

CHINA DECLARED WAR.

Broke Off Negotiations With Legations June 18 and Two Days Later Proclaimed Hostilities.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A special dispatch from Tien Tsin July 31 says:

"A Peking message, dated July 2, reports that the first outside news reached there July 18. The failure of the relief expedition made the siege far more perilous. On June 19 the Tsung-Li-Yamen broke off relations. June 20 China declared war. Baron Von Ketteler and Francis James, an English professor, were murdered. Over 400 non-combatants occupied the British legation. I understand converts are holding the North cathedral. A thousand refugees occupied the palace of Prince Lu. A truce began July 17, after 26 days of fierce assault. One night the shelling was uninterrupted for six hours. Four attempts were made to fire the British legation. Two attacks resulted in the ruin of Han-Lin college (the Chinese national college). The cowardice of the Chinese prevented a successful rushing.

"The total killed or died is: Germans, 10; French, 11; British, 5; Russians, 4; Americans, 7; Italians, 7; converts, 9; total, with wounded, 98.

"The correspondents Morrison, Reid and Temyer are ill. At least 2,000 Chinese have been killed. The Americans occupy a strong position on the city wall. Provisions are still sufficient. The hospital arrangements are excellent. Everybody is much exhausted by continuous work. Imperial edicts have commended the Boxers and ordered missionaries to leave the interior and commanded all viceroys to help Peking, but an edict dated July 18 enjoins protection to property. The report that a large relief force was coming produced this change. Foreign governments should beware of being hoodwinked."

DISPOSED TO NEGOTIATE.

Jap Minister So Reported as His Impression of the Attitude of Chinese, July 19.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Japanese consul at Tien Tsin telegraphed on the 27th inst. a dispatch dated the 19th from the Japanese minister at Peking to the foreign office at Tokio, which had reached Tien Tsin by special courier on the 25th. The minister said:

"The Japanese marines and others continue, under the command of the military attaché, Lieutenant Colonel Shiba, to resist the repeated attacks of Tung-Fuh-Siang's troops. I think we can hold out, though the task is by no means an easy one, until we are relieved by the division of Japanese troops which, I hear through a special messenger, will arrive at Tien Tsin by the end of this month. The Chinese have stopped firing since the 17th, and the Chinese authorities are apparently disposed to open negotiations.

"Attache Kojima, Captain Ando, of the imperial army, Mr. H. Nakamura and five marines have been killed; while Narabara, second secretary of the legation, a student, and six marines have been wounded, though not mortally. Many others have also been slightly wounded."

VICTORIA'S SON DEAD.

Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha Expired of Heart Failure—To Lie in State in England.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, the second son of Queen Victoria, died at Coburg of heart failure.

The news of his death was communicated to the queen and the Prince of Wales. The bells of the royal chapel were tolled, and the announcement of the duke's death was officially issued throughout the kingdom. The duke's body will be brought to England to lie in state. The young Duke of Albany succeeds to the title.

Recently at a consultation of specialists in Vienna it was discovered that there was a cancerous growth at the root of the duke's tongue. At the desire of the duchess and other members of the family who were aware of the nature of his disease, the duke took up his residence at Rosenau. His royal highness was unaware of the real state of his health and hoped he would recover. The news of the death of the duke created a sensation in London, as it was totally unexpected.

TWO ELPERS MOBBED

AND PAINTED BLUE.

Mansfield, O., Citizens Show Their Anger Toward Dowie's Followers—Fusillade of Stones.

MANSFIELD, Aug. 1.—A crowd of about 4,000 infuriated citizens mobbed Zion Elders A. W. McChirkin and E. P. Fisher, of Chicago. The Zion flock, numbering about 30, held services at the home of a Zion member, conducted by Elder McChirkin, M. Stevens, evangelist professor of Chicago, and Elder McFarlan, of Marion. A crowd gathered and the elders barricaded the house. Rocks were thrown through the windows and the doors battered down. Several members of the mob were struck by stones hurled back by the elders. Three were severely injured. Sheriff Pulver, the chief of police, and a police detail arrived, but were powerless. The house was almost wrecked and the Zion elders were struck by stones or sticks, but not seriously injured. The mob threatened to dynamite the house. Soon the mob forced an entrance and Fisher and McChirkin were dragged away to the harrow works, where they were stripped naked and painted from head to foot. The paint was applied first with brushes, then buckets of paint were poured on them. They were then taken to the police headquarters, where they were turned over to the police.

The mob congregated again in front of the jail. When Mayor Brown ordered them to disperse in the name of the law they did so quietly and orderly. Many women were in the mob. The following telegram was sent to Dowie by the mob:

"Elder Fisher and his mate have been nicely painted blue. The police were busy looking for the nut-spiers attached with the nickel-plate show, hence the elders were nicely dabbed with the original ottermeren blue. Waiting for more orders. (Signed) "Mansfield Blues."

JOHN C. RIDPATH DEAD

Demise of Noted Indiana Historian in New York.

WIFE AND SON WITH HIM.

Complication of Diseases Caused the Great Scholar's Death—Wrote a Number of Historical Works—Once Professor at DePauw—Ran For Congress at One Time.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—John Clark Ridpath, the historian, died in the Presbyterian hospital from a complication of diseases. He had been a patient in the hospital since April 26.

At the time of the historian's death his wife and son, S. E. Ridpath, were at the bedside. The body was later removed from the hospital.

John Clark Ridpath, LL. D., the historian, was born in Putnam county, Ind., in April, 1841. There was not at that time a wagonroad within three miles of the log cabin in which he was born. His parents were from Christianburg, Va. His mother was a descendant of Samuel Matthews, one of the colonial governors of Virginia.

He was graduated from Asbury (now DePauw) university in 1863, taking first honors. After serving as principal of an academy at Thorntown, Ind., and as superintendent of public schools

at Lawrenceburg, he was called, in 1869, to the chair of English literature at DePauw. His career as a professor in the university was distinguished. He was transferred later to the chair of history and political philosophy. He became a conspicuous figure in the college world. He distinguished himself by his ability to think clearly, speak fluently and write masterfully.

In 1875 he published his first book, an "Academic History of the United States." It was an immediate success. It still holds its place as a text book in many schools. In 1876 he published his "Popular History of the United States," a large octavo volume, of which more than 400,000 copies have been sold. It has been published also in German. He wrote the "Life and Work of Garfield," of which 85,000 copies were sold. His "Cyclopaedia of Universal History" was published in 1885 in four octavo volumes. It is a monument to the author's power of generalization and to the breadth and accuracy of his historical vision. More than 150,000 sets of this history have been sold.

In 1885 he resigned his professorship in DePauw and the vice presidency of the university in order that he might devote his whole time to the profession of authorship. In 1893 he published his "Life and Work of James G. Blaine," and in 1894 his most comprehensive and philosophical work entitled "Great Races of Mankind" in four volumes. He was engaged for 10 years in preparing the material and four years in writing this work. In 1898 he published his "Life and Times of Gladstone," and a supplement to the "History of All Nations" for Webster's Dictionary. He was for a time editor of the Arena Magazine of Boston. His monographs are numerous. In 1896 he consented unwillingly to run for congress on the Democratic ticket in his home district in Indiana. Though he ran ahead of his ticket he was defeated by a small majority. In recent years he has been engaged in the preparation of a complete and elaborate history of the United States.

WOMAN HEALED BY FAITH.

Had Been Ill for About 14 Years, Some Four of Them Being Bedridden.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Violetta Crump, of Industry, Pa., after being ill about 14 years, about four years of the time being bedridden, has been cured by faith in prayer.

Mrs. Crump has had the double affliction of spinal trouble and a nervous disorder. She had been paralyzed in portions of the body for many years and wore a special brace for the upper part of the body, closely resembling a harness.

On the 27th day of April, 1899, Mrs. Crump accepted faith healing and was anointed. She arose from her couch, discarded all supports, walked to the pump in the rear of the house and pumped unaided a pail of water, carried the bucket into the kitchen and without assistance prepared and cooked the next meal for the family. She has never returned to her couch, a three months' supply of remedies and ointments have been sacrificed and new strength is rapidly building up the worn and emaciated body into a condition of perfect health and plumpness. Mrs. Crump is about 38 years of age.

Mrs. Crump was not permitted to give her testimony before the world until a satisfactory limit of time had expired, in order that the cure might be tested as to the prospect of its permanency. Fifteen months have now elapsed since she arose from her couch and discarded brace and bottle, and her story, told at the Christian Alliance rooms in this city, was for the first time made public. Mrs. Crump has returned to her home in Industry. Her statement will be sent out by the Rev. E. D. Whitesides, director of the Alliance rooms.

Upward Spurt in Union Pacific and Realizing in Sugar Caused Animation at Close.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Some animation was given to the closing dealings in the stock market Tuesday by the conflicting movements of prices engendered by the upward spurt in Union Pacific and the realizing in Sugar. The break in Sugar proved the more effective in its influence, and the market closed weak at about the low level of the day, after having shown considerable gains in many stocks at an earlier period. The trading was dull and continued entirely in professional hands. The early strength was reflected to some extent from the foreign stock market, which showed decided relief over the reliable tenor of the news of the safety of the envoys in Peking. The small commitments on the bear side put out Monday were closed up, helping the rise.

A number of statements of railroad net earnings for June published over night were factors of strength. This was notably true of the Pennsylvania report. The stock advanced 1½ under this influence and the price was well held through the later vicissitudes of the market, affording a rather striking contrast to the indifference with which June reports of some other railroads were received.

Sugar fell abruptly to 120½, an extreme decline of four and American Tobacco suddenly dropped three points in sympathy. Metropolitan showed marked weakness, and the whole list fell to the lowest, Union Pacific yielding a fraction. There was some evidence of a speculative contest between the friends of Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio, on account of attempts on the part of Union Pacific and bears on Baltimore and Ohio to draw unfavorable comparisons between the price of Union Pacific, with dividends declared at the rate of 4 per cent and Baltimore and Ohio with dividend action yet to be taken. Brooklyn Transit continued rather active Tuesday, but the movement was not wide and the stock saves a fractional net gain.

There was a slightly firmer tone to sterling exchange Tuesday, in spite of a shading of London discount rates. The question of gold exports this week remains undecided, with Tuesday's conditions against the probability.

U. S. refunding 2s when issued declined ½ and the 3s, old 4s and 5s ¼ at the last call Tuesday.

BADEN-POWELL AGAIN BESIEGED.

Hero of Mafeking In a Perilous Position at Rustenburg.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Lord Roberts reported to the War Office July 31 that General Methuen marched 21 miles and engaged the enemy, who were fighting a rear guard action. These Boers were presumably DeWet's commando.

General Roberts also sent a report concerning Baden-Powell, who was hemmed in at Rustenburg, which was not encouraging. He says that all the cyclist messengers Baden-Powell has sent out have been captured.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—Bishop David H. Moore, who was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, with stationary residence at Shanghai, China, by the last general conference, delivered his farewell address here and announced that he would start for China Wednesday.

PRAYED BY HIS BODY.

Queen Marguerite Spent the Long Hours of a Night at Dead Humbert's Bedside.

MONZA, Aug. 1.—The body of King Humbert, dressed in black, laid on the bed ordinarily used by him. Around the massive candelabra, holding burning tapers, at the foot and head of the bed, are placed flowers by Queen Marguerite, who passed the long hours of the night in prayer by the bed on which the body lies. Father Bignami, the court chaplain, is in immediate charge of the bier. The Cardinal Archbishop of Milan ordered a requiem mass in all churches of his diocese.

Bressi maintained an air of the utmost cynicism. In the course of his examination he declared himself to be a revolutionary anarchist, and said he was ready to resume operations if he were released.

Milan, Aug. 1.—Mme. Romela and her son, at whose house Bressi, the assassin, stayed while here, were arrested. King Victor Emmanuel III. arrived at Brindisi unexpectedly. The young queen fainted when she heard of the assassination of King Humbert. The king and queen started for Monza immediately after reaching Brindisi.

Rome, Aug. 1.—In the absence of the new king the ministry issued in his name a manifesto to the nation.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS.

Among the most distinguished members of congress from the state during the entire century was Joshua R. Giddings, the great anti-slavery leader, who was returned to congress eleven times by an admiring constituency, once receiving a vote of confidence, at his own request.

Joshua Reed Giddings was born in Athens, Pa., in 1795, and at eleven years of age came to Ashtabula county with his parents. In 1838 he was elected as a Whig to congress, but soon became prominent as an advocate of the right of petition and the abolition of slavery and the domestic slave trade.

In 1841 the "Creole," an American vessel, sailed from Virginia to Louisiana with a cargo of slaves, who got possession of the vessel, ran into the British port of Nassau, and, in accordance with British law, were set free; whereupon Mr. Webster, secretary of state, wrote to Edward Everett, United States minister to London, saying that the government would demand indemnification for the slaves. In consequence Mr. Giddings offered in the house a series of resolutions, in which it was declared that as slavery was an abridgment of a natural right it had no force beyond the territorial jurisdiction that created it; that when an American vessel was on the high seas it was under the jurisdiction of the general government, which did not sanction slavery, and, therefore, the mutineers of the "Creole" had only assumed their natural right to liberty, and to attempt to enslave them would be dishonorable. Although he temporarily withdrew the resolutions, the house passed a vote of censure, 125 to 69, whereupon he resigned, and, appealing to his constituents, was re-elected by an immense majority. For 21 years he held his seat in congress, opposing every encroachment of the slave power with a boldness and strength that won the fear and respect of its advocates. Whenever he spoke he was listened to with great attention, and had several affairs, in which he always triumphed. He declined re-election from ill health in 1860, and died at Montreal in 1864, and while holding the position of United States consul in Canada. His disease was atrophy of the heart. Towards the close of his congressional career he had one time, while speaking, fallen to the floor. The members gathered around, thinking he was dead. For eight minutes his heart ceased to beat. He was the author of several political works, mainly essays, bearing upon the subject of slavery.

Mr. Giddings was first elected to congress in 1838, vice Elisha Whittlesy, resigned. He entered the Twenty-fifth congress and served continuously to the end of the Thirty-fifth, March 4, 1861. He had practically the same constituency throughout. He was elected from the Sixteenth district in 1838, composed of Ashtabula, Trumbull and Geauga counties. In 1842 it became the Twentieth district, embracing Ashtabula, Geauga, Lake and Cuyahoga.

ANDREW LOOMIS.

Andrew Loomis of Columbiana county was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1836 from the Seventeenth district, Columbiana county, and resigned in 1838. The quiet pursuits of private life had greater charms for him than public office.

CHARLES D. COFFIN

Was elected successor to Andrew Loomis to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1838 and served out the vacancy caused by the latter's resignation. In 1842, after leaving congress, he went to Cincinnati to enter upon the practice of law, and was elected judge of the superior court, and incidentally became a prominent newspaper writer, and after leaving the bench followed his profession for many years. He was born in Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 10, 1804, and died in Cincinnati, Feb. 28, 1880.

MATTHIAS SHEPLAR.

Matthias Sheplar was a Democrat of local prominence in Stark county, and had distinguished himself as a state legislator, having been elected to the house in 1829, serving two years, and to the senate in 1832, serving two years. In 1836 he was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress from the Eleventh district, composed of Stark and Wayne counties. Born in Pennsylvania in 1793. Located in Stark county in early life, where he died at an advanced age.

HENRY SWEARENGEN

Represented Jefferson county in the state senate from 1829 to 1831, and was elected to the Twenty-fifth congress in 1836 to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Kilgore from the Nineteenth district, Jefferson and Harrison counties. He was re-elected to the Twenty-sixth in 1838 from the same district. He was an attorney, and resumed the practice after leaving congress. In politics he was a Democrat. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1790, and died in Jefferson county, Ohio, at the age of 75.

JOHN B. WELLER.

John B. Weller was born in Hamilton county, Ohio, in 1812, and afterward became a resident and prominent citizen of the adjoining county of Butler. He entered congress at the age of 26, having been elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Second district—Butler, Preble and Darke counties. He was elected to the Twenty-seventh congress in 1840 from the same district, and again in 1842 was elected to the Twenty-eighth congress from the Second district, which had not been changed in the apportionment of 1842.

Before he reached his thirtieth year he was recognized as one of the leaders of the Democratic party in the state. After leaving congress he resumed the practice of the law and ranked as one of the leading advocates of the Butler county bar. He was strongly in favor of the annexation of Texas, and in the Mexican war was lieutenant colonel of the Second Ohio volunteers, and proved himself a gallant soldier.

In 1848 he was the Democratic candidate for governor against Seabury Ford of Geauga county, the Whig candidate, and the campaign was not only a remarkably bitter one, but the result was long in doubt and dispute, being the first and only disputed gubernatorial election in the state during the century.

The two houses did not meet in joint convention to canvass the vote until the 8th of January, 1849, and then a long and bitter wrangle ensued.

When the third county in its order was called, Senator Henry C. Whitman of Fairfield Democrat, raised the point of order that the speaker

the senate was not opening and publishing the returns of votes for governor, but was only opening and publishing the footings of the returns.

Senator James Myers of Lucas, Democrat, moved that the speaker appoint a select joint committee to add up the votes and report any errors and correct the same before the final result of the canvass was proclaimed.

Senator Andrew H. Byers of Wayne moved to adjourn, which motion was lost 45 to 54. Senator Barnabas Burns of Richland, Democrat, moved that the senate withdraw, which was lost 15 to 19. Representative Benjamin F. Leiter of Stark, Democrat, moved a recess until 3 p. m., which was agreed to, 52 to 41.

At 3 p. m. the opening of the abstracts was completed and the speaker of the senate appointed Backus, Whitman, Beaver and Wilson of the senate, and Leiter, Holcomb, Whitely, Morris, Chaffee, Riddle, Brewer and Bigger of the house to foot the returns and correct all errors that appeared in the abstracts.

On the 9th, this committee reported that the vote, according to the returns opened, showed that Seabury Ford had an aggregate vote of 145,816; John B. Weller had an aggregate vote of 146,105. Also that the vote of Defiance county had been omitted from the computation because the returns were not in conformity to law. Lorain was omitted for the same reason. Ten votes in Van Wert were added to the returns for Weller. In Crawford 84 votes were returned as given for "Seabury." They were not included in the aggregate for Seabury Ford. The votes cast in that part of Morrow county taken from Richland, were included.

Also that John B. Weller having received a majority of 289 votes over Seabury Ford, was duly elected governor and ought to be so declared. The report was signed by Messrs. Whitman, Wilson, Leiter, Whitely, Morris and Brewer, Democrats, one-half of the committee.

Mr. Whitman offered a resolution that a joint committee be appointed to examine the returns in the presence of the two houses. Mr. Dennis, raised a point of order that the resolution was not in order, and the speaker sustained the point. Great confusion prevailed, in the midst of which the convention recessed until Jan. 10. On that day it recessed until 10 a. m., the 11th. The controversy continued until Jan. 22, when the following corrected footings were agreed to by the select joint committee of the two houses, who reported that the whole number of votes cast at the election was 297,943, of which Seabury Ford received 148,756, and John B. Weller 148,445, a plurality of 311 for Ford. There were 742 scattering votes.

In 1819 Mr. Weller was commissioned to establish the boundary line between California and Mexico. In 1852 he was elected United States senator from California, and held the office until 1857, when he was elected governor of that state. In 1860 he was appointed minister to Mexico by President Buchanan. He died in New Orleans in 1875, while he had engaged in the practice of law.

WILLIAM DOANE.

William Doane represented Clermont county in the state senate from 1833 to 1835, and was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Fifth district, comprising Clermont, Brown and Adams counties, and was re-elected from the same district to the Twenty-seventh congress in 1840. He was born in Maine in 1789, and removed to Clermont county, where he died at the age of 81.

ISAAC PARRISH.

Guernsey county was represented by Isaac Parrish in 1837 in the house of the Thirty-sixth general assembly, who, in 1838, was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress from the Eleventh district, composed of Guernsey and Belmont counties, and elected to the Twenty-ninth from the Thirteenth district in 1844, Morgan, Perry and Washington counties. He was a quiet, unobtrusive citizen, commanding the respect of all who knew him, and voluntarily retired from public life. He was a lawyer by profession, and was born about the year 1800. He died in Des Moines, Iowa, at an advanced age.

JONATHAN TAYLOR.

General Jonathan Taylor represented Licking county in the house of the Thirty-first general assembly in 1832-1833, and in the senate of the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth, in 1834-1836.

In 1838 he was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress from the Twelfth district, embracing Licking and Muskingum counties. But few men in his day commanded more fully the respect and confidence of the people in his section of the state than General Taylor. Had he chosen to remain in politics, his constituents would have re-elected him to congress during the remainder of his life. But political preferment had fewer allurments for him than the more genial pursuits of life. His public services were ungrudgingly and unselfishly performed. He was active in promoting all the local interests and public interests of his county and the state at large during his lifetime.

He was born in Connecticut in 1796, and died in Licking county in April, 1848. He served as a soldier in the war of 1812. Was a civil engineer by profession, and surveyed the boundary line between Ohio and Michigan under the direction of the government.

GEORGE SWEENEY.

George Sweeney of Crawford county was elected to the Twenty-sixth congress in 1838 from the Fourteenth district, composed of Crawford, Richland, Seneca, Sandusky and Huron, and was re-elected to the Twenty-seventh in 1840. Aside from this he took no part in the general politics of the state, but was a useful citizen in his own community, where he located early in life, and filled numerous local positions. Born in Pennsylvania in 1800, and lived to an advanced age.

LILIES.

Lilies, white lilies, ye calm my soul,
For the waters are wild and the billows roll,
And love and trust have drifted away
Like the distant sail on the breast of the bay.
In a moment more 'twill have drifted from sight
And be hidden away in the waste of night!

And then ye came with your pure, sweet gaze,
With your dainty, winsome, loving ways,
And crept like a dear dream into my heart.
I could not bear to send thee apart,
For the fragrance that floats on your balmy breath
To me whispers "peace," though the world calls it death.

REPLY TO ROOSEVELT.

Altgeld Will Do So In Toledo
Tonight.

The Committee of the Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs commenced at Toledo—George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts Among the Visitors Present.

TOLEDO, Aug. 1.—The Ohio Association of Democratic Clubs began a two-day session at the Lyceum theater. Many notables of the party are here, among whom are Hon. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts; Judge Tarvin, of Kentucky. Ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, will speak tomorrow night, in reply to the recent speeches of Hon. Theodore Roosevelt on "Imperialism." Hon. Timothy Tarsney and S. Barkwith, of Michigan; Hon. James M. Robinson, of Indiana; Hon. H. H. McFadden, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, and Judge Allen Smalley, of Upper Sandusky; General I. R. Sherwood and many others of more or less renown.

Mayor Jones delivered one of his characteristic Golden Rule, non-partisan addresses of welcome, and was followed by Dr. Reemelin, of Cincinnati, president of the association. His subject was "A Government Function."

Dr. Reemelin says that ex-Governor Altgeld leaves a sick room to come to Toledo. Dr. Reemelin has been in correspondence with Mr. Altgeld. At first the former Illinois governor wrote Dr. Reemelin that he would not appear in Toledo because he was sick and it would not be advisable for him to come here. And now this story is told: Altgeld was in his room reading Governor Roosevelt's St. Paul speech. The deeper he got into the report the more incensed he became. Finally he got so angry that he called for a messenger boy and indited the following telegram to President Reemelin: "Can you yet use me at Toledo in August? If so, advise me. I want to reply to Roosevelt."

And tonight ex-Governor Altgeld will make reply to Governor Roosevelt.
